President Is In Good Spirits After Fairly Comfortable Night; May Leave Hospital On June 23

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's doctors reported today he spent "a fairly comfortable night" and was in good spirits this morning.

The 8 a.m. medical bulletin added that the President, four days after his intestinal operation, still is being fed intravenously and had the Levine tube through the nostril into the stomach.

Today's first medical bulletin, issued by Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder and other attending physicians said:

"The President had a fairly comfortable night.

"He was in good spirits this morning.

"His temperature is 99, his pulse 80, his blood pressure 118 over 90, his respiration is 20—all of which are normal reactions at this stage.

"He is still on intravenous feeding. The decompressing tube is still being used."

Meets Sherman Adams

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, who gave out the bulletin, said the President had no official business on his immediate schedule beyond a meeting with chief White House aide Sherman Adams some time during the morning.

The President is approaching the time when he must resolve several problems raised by his illness. Some of them might be presented to him by Adams.

These questions include whether Eisenhower will hold a bedside conference at Walter Reed hospital with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany before Adenauer leaves Washington late tomorrow. Vice President Nixon arranged to substitute for Eisenhower as host at a luncheon in Adenauer's honor today.

May Meet Nehru

Still unresolved also is the question whether Eisenhower will be able to go through with his planned conversations July 7-10 with India's Prime Minister Nehru at a mountain retreat in Maryland. His doctors have said Eisenhower may leave the hospital by about June 23, and rest for another two to four weeks at any place of his choosing.

Eisenhower yesterday signed three official documents, twice walked about the room in pajamas and bathrobe, and sat up for a total of 50 minutes.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said in response to newsmen's questions that Eisenhower still is in pain "but it decreases each day." He is receiving mild sedation.

Through the State Department, he has advised President Arian of (Continued On Page 3)

Flag Day Service Thursday Evening

Gettysburg's formal observance of Flag Day will again be sponsored by the Gettysburg Lodge of Elks when the annual service will be held in the Elks Home, York St., Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

The Albert J. Lentz Post 202, American Legion, will receive the flag from the Spanish-American War Veterans.

C. David McCullough, exalted ruler of the lodge, will preside. Music will be furnished by the Gettysburg High School band.

Commissioners View Two Bridge Sites

The Adams County commissioners this afternoon inspected two sites for relocation of two small bridges in which the county is to pay damages under agreement with the state highway department.

The bridge work is being carried out by the state highway department and involves some additional taking of rights of way. The one bridge is in Franklin Twp. on the Buchanan Valley Rd. and the other in Hamilton Twp. on the road from New Oxford to the Abbottstown-East Berlin Rd.

Friday the commissioners participated in public sale of the property of John Crum at Brysonia. The lot and house were sold to Eugene Staub, Brysonia, for $3,600, and personal property brought $159. A fund of $500 was set aside and the remainder goes to the Department of Public Assistance for its claim against the property.

COUPLE LICENSED

A marriage license has been issued by the clerk of courts to Miss Gwenn Suzanne Bream, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Bream, W. Broadway, and Ray Kenneth Drum, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas Drum, Ashland, Pa.

campus citizenship based on character, industry, enterprise and leadership." She was honored at a dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg along with David C. Hamme, York, a Senior of 1953, who also received the award.

She was active in campus activities and presented numerous musical recitals while a student at the college.

Attending the graduation at Rochester were Mr. and Mrs. John Epley, R. 1, and Rev. and Mrs. Ralph C. Sloop, New Cumberland, who spent the weekend there and returned home by way of the Finger Lakes and Watkins Glen, N. Y.

SAYS HIS UNCLE IS HIS DEBTOR

Walter J. Hamm Jr., New Oxford R. 1, today filed an answer with the prothonotary in the equity action brought against him by his uncle, Hugh K. Hamm, Hanover R. 5, in which the younger Hamm not only claims he owes his uncle nothing, but that on the contrary the uncle is an debt to him.

Hugh Hamm originally brought the suit claiming he had entered into a partnership with his nephew and that the nephew had made no accounting to him, and had removed property from the farm.

Walter Hamm's answer is that the relationship between him and his uncle concerning the farm started as a landlord-tenant agreement in 1946. Then by oral agreement the elder Hamm was to sell the farm and equipment to the younger Hamm for $10,200 for the farm and $15,500 for equipment.

According to the answer, the younger Hamm improved the farm, and spent money and worked in his (Continued On Page 3)

REPORT LOCAL CRASH

The automobile operated by Arthur Pellman, 23, Albany, N. Y., was damaged to the extent of $250 when struck in the rear by a truck at Baltimore and Steinwehr Avenue, Tuesday. Police said the car was struck when it stopped for a traffic signal. The truck owned by Wolf Supply Co., and operated by Norman E. Yingling, 22, Gettysburg was not damaged.

Two Teen-Age Boys Killed When Car Crashes Into Tree

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Two teenage boys were killed early today when an automobile left the highway and crashed into a tree 3 1/2 miles south of Lewisburg. Two other teen-age boys and the driver were injured.

The victims were Robert L. Yeager, 14, Milton R. 1, and Alvin Reedy, 12, Milton. Both met death instantly.

State Policeman Matthew Chabal of Milton sub-station said Edward Thomas Buck, 27, Milton, owner and driver of the car, told him he fell asleep at the wheel while taking the boys for an early morning drive. Buck and the two injured boys were taken to the Lewisburg Hospital.

Buck suffered a puncture wound of the skull, contusions and abrasions of the right arm, condition fair.

Fairfield High Band To Hold Rehearsals

Charles Rogers, Gettysburg, band instructor at the Fairfield High School, has announced the following rehearsal schedule for the summer: June 25, July 2, July 30 and August 6. The junior band will rehearse from 5:45 to 6:30 p.m., the beginners from 6:30 to 7:15 p.m., and the senior band from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The Fairfield High School Band Auxiliary will contribute towards the expenses of Joyce Kuykendall, Joyce Spence, Monica Machacek and Vera Everaole, band majorities, who will attend a baton-twirling school for majorettes at Red Lion June 26, 27 and 28.

Plans were completed for the strawberry festival to be held by the auxiliary Saturday at the high school beginning at 5 p.m. Frank Kuykendall, Fairfield R. 1, presided at the meeting of the auxiliary held at the high school Tuesday evening.

SOROPTIMISTS PLAN SUMMER SOCIAL EVENTS

Plans for the summer season were made at the business meeting of the Soroptimist Club at the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday night. While business meetings will be dispensed with during the months of July and August, a number of social events are being planned. Invitations have been received from the Westminster, Md., club for their formal installation dinner next Monday.

On Thursday, June 21, the Gettysburg club will join with the clubs of Chambersburg, Hanover and York in a formal dinner at the Yorktown Hotel, when newly-elected officers and new members will be formally installed by Miss Ethel Lord, the new governor of the North Atlantic region. Reservations must be made with Mrs. George F. Eberhart not later than June 16.

Sending Two Gavel

On Tuesday, June 26, the Harrisburg club has invited the local club to attend their 18th birthday anniversary and formal installation of their new officers by Mrs. Dora Lewis, immediate past governor of the region, at the Penn Harris Hotel. Prior to the dinner a reception will be given in the Assembly room to honor Mrs. Lewis and one of their own members, Miss Kaye Witmer, recently elected as the new secretary of the region. The formal dinner will be at 7 o'clock in the ball room. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler by June 19.

On Wednesday, June 27, the West Shore of Harrisburg Club has invited the local club to attend their first anniversary dinner and installation of officers by Miss Louise Hetherington, Pittsburgh, past governor of the region. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Buehler by June 20.

Gavels of battlefield wood are being sent to two new clubs in the region at Hammon, Pa., and Huntington, N. J., and greetings will be sent to two new clubs in the federation Calistoga, Cal., and Sherman, Texas.

A letter of thanks was received from the new club of Fayette County, Pa., for the gavel recently sent them.

PARADISE TWP. GOING TO COURT OVER JOINTURE

Legal attempts of the Paradise Twp. school board to break free of the Conewago Joint School System were expected to have some effect this afternoon on results at a meeting of county school boards at Harrisburg.

Invitations have been sent the East Berlin, Conewago, Independent, Reading, Latimore, York Springs and Huntington school boards to meet with state Department of Public Instruction in the office of Raymond Robinson at Harrisburg at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The meeting, at which County Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegle will be present, was called by state officials to discuss the possibilities of establishing Administrative Unit No. 2, the joining of the North Adams and part of the Conewago Joint school systems contemplated by the Adams County plan for school development.

Want Better Facilities

While the meeting has been planned for several weeks, the session's deliberations will also have to take into account a new development occurring Monday when Paradise Twp., a part of Conewago joint, authorized institution of legal steps to bring about its severance from the Adams County Conewago Joint school district. Paradise officials said it is seeking the severance to provide its 230 elementary pupils with better school facilities.

Carroll H. Leppo, president of the Paradise board, said Tuesday that Attorney Frank B. Boyle has been employed as special counsel to file severance proceedings in common pleas court after a three-year effort to bring about an agreement on providing additional school facilities on a jointure level failed. A resolution seeking approval of severance was voted down at a joint board meeting Monday night at East Berlin. The boards of Paradise and Reading Townships and Abbottstown borough voted for the resolution and the East Berlin borough and Conewago Independent boards voted against. Exchange Club Tours Doubleday Factory

Following dinner at the Victory Restaurant, Hanover, Tuesday evening, 20 members of the Gettysburg Exchange Club were taken on a guided tour of the Doubleday Book factory, Hanover. The plant was in full operation during the tour and club members were able to view the complete operation. The tour lasted from 7:30 to 8:45 p.m.

Two new members were installed at the dinner meeting: David Rutters of Dave's Wallpaper and Paint Supply Co., Carlisle St., and Stanley Wolf, Wolf's Furniture Store, Two Taverns.

Next week following the regular meeting Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Plaza Restaurant, members of the Exchange Club will take their wives to the Majestic Theater performance.

65 HORSES AND PONIES ENTERED IN HORSE SHOW

Sixty-five horses and ponies have been registered so far for the Fourth Annual Gettysburg Horse Show to be held Sunday afternoon at the Gettysburg Riding Club Show Grounds on the Heret's Mill Road, under sponsorship of the Gettysburg Rotary Club and the Riding Club.

General chairmen for the show, Dr. Bruce N. Wolff and Dr. Richard Newsham, said that the registration so far indicates that about 80 horses and ponies will be shown Sunday if the number of post entries this year equals the number in prior years.

Twenty-six classes are scheduled for the afternoon. The show will open with a jumping class, followed by a lead line pony class.

Classes three through 26, in order follow: Western pleasure horse, open three-gaited saddle horse, large pony, driving, open five-gaited saddle horse, gentleman's pleasure horse, open walking horse, small pony, ladies' pleasure horse, open single roadster, hunter and jumper pleasure horse, pairs, open western, pony driving, children's pleasure horse, three-gaited saddle horse stake, five-gaited saddle horse stake for the Conti Brothers trophy first won last year by Samuel Hippy, Quentin, Pa.; Adams County pleasure horse also for a challenge trophy, driving show pony, walking horse stake for a challenge trophy awarded by the Rotary Club and won last year by John Needy, Hagerstown, fine harness horse, western stake for Riding Club challenge trophy won last year by Robert Foth, Gettysburg, and as in the past, the concluding class will be the open jumping stake.

The show will begin at 12 noon and continue through to 6 or 7 o'clock Sunday evening.

COLLEGE PLANS NEW PRESS BOX

Gettysburg College's Memorial Field will have a new look, and radio and newsmen covering the Bullets football games will get a better view of the grid action with the erection of a new press box. The new structure, which will replace the present facilities, will be longer and wider.

According to Henry T. Bream, athletic director at the college, the new press box will be 13 feet deep and 47 feet long with seats arranged in two tiers. There will be two radio booths and 2 movie booths. The structure will have a glass front to protect press and scouts from the weather. Entrance will be at the front as at present.

Construction of the new press box is scheduled to begin in July. It will be completed in time to use at the Bullets' first home game. Bream also disclosed that the college diamond will be resurfaced and two dugouts installed.

Ridinger To Open Carlisle St. Office

Harry D. Ridinger, 116 Seminary Ave., former county register and recorder, will open an insurance and real estate office at 10 Carlisle St. about July 1 in the room to be vacated by Gay's jewelry store.

Mr. Ridinger, who handles all forms of insurance, also is a salesman for Danner's Realtors of East Berlin. Besides fire, casualty, automobile, accident and health insurance, Mr. Ridinger will handle bonds.

Band Will Play Two Engagements

The Blue and Gray Band of Gettysburg will fulfill two engagements this week. Thursday evening they will participate in the parade at Taneytown at 6:30 o'clock.

Members of the band are urged to be at the band hall at 6 o'clock if they need transportation. Friday evening, the band is scheduled to play for the annual bazaar of the St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church. Musicians are asked to be at the church at 8 o'clock.

Pakistan Youth In County On IFYE Plan; 'Adopted' By Tates

Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Tate, Biglerville R. 2, for the second year are entertaining an International Farm Youth Exchange student from the East.

This year their guest is Nawab Hossain Sarker, of Rangpur, East Pakistan, of Hindu nationality and Moslem religion. Last year their guest was Amajet Singh, a native of India, of Hindu nationality and Sikh religion.

The Tates say they are getting a complete picture of the situation in the India area. In addition to their own guests a visitor from West Pakistan, Mazhar Ali Peshawar, is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Jay McCulloch, Newville R. 2, East and West Pakistan are 1,000 miles apart, divided by India. Peshawar, from West Pakistan resides only a 120 miles from Singh, who visited with the Tate's last year.

Complete Participation

As is the custom with the IFYE's Sarker, like Singh last year, is "adopted" as a member of the family for his stay, and takes part in all activities on the Tate farm. Where bullocks and wooden plows are the custom in East Pakistan, here Sarker is learning to operate the Tate's tractor—an operation which he says has some problems. Spraying in the Tate orchard the first time he drove a tractor, Sarker was just congratulating himself that all was going well, when he turned another corner and found a tree right in the middle of the row. He stopped in time but confesses to having been startled.

One of 48 young men from India, Pakistan and Nepal who are in this country this summer under the International Farm Youth Exchange program while young American farmers visit other countries, the 24 year old Sarker is manager of an experimental farm in the northern and western part of East Pakistan.

Caverns Display In Motor Club Window

An interesting display of the Caverns of Luray is in the window of the remodeled Gettysburg Motor Club, Lincoln Square.

The display was brought here by Ted Graves, owner of the Caverns, and presented to the club for an indefinite period through Mrs. Millicent W. Prowell who is currently in charge of the office.

At night the caverns are illuminated.

Six Children Smothered In Brooklyn Sand Slide

By GEOFFREY GOULD

NEW YORK (AP)—With a whispering rush, a wall of sandy earth swept down on a group of children playing in a Brooklyn excavation last night. Six of them—two girls and four boys—were smothered and crushed to death.

Police and the Brooklyn district attorney began an investigation to determine if negligence was involved.

It could not be determined immediately whether a watchman had been posted to keep neighborhood children out of the block-square excavation.

It was supertime in the teeming Williamsburg section, a district of aging, closely packed tenements. Nine youngsters apparently were digging a tunnel in the soft sand at the foot of the 30-foot wall of the excavation, which was for a highway underpass.

Eleven-year-old Marie Stanikunas had been sent to call her brother and sister home for supper. She saw them in the hole. Just then the earth moved.

Marie screamed and grabbed another sister, Dolores. The cascading sand swirled around her ankles and sucked off her shoes,

His model farm is operated under an arrangement with the Pakistan government under which he demonstrates to the people of three villages the manner in which new developments and methods are carried out on his own farm, and then lectures at meetings in the three villages on methods of farming.

Most improvement and most rapid adoption of the methods shown is being made by the "youngsters," Sarker notes. "The older farmers are more content with their old ways and while they adopt new seeds quickly when shown that they produce better, they are slow to adopt improved methods of farming."

In this country Sarker will visit farms in Pennsylvania, take part in a week's program at Pennsylvania State University starting June 25, (Continued On Page 2)

DIES ON TRIP TO NIAGARA FALLS

Tolbert Edward Starnes, 62, New Oxford R. 1, a Reading Twp. farmer for many years, died suddenly from a coronary occlusion Monday at midnight while on a vacation at Niagara Falls, N. Y. He left for New York Friday with his wife and brother, Sterling Starnes, of Downey, Calif.

A native of Carroll County, Md., the deceased was a member of the Home Association of the Hanover Eagles and the Hampton Fire Company. He was a farmer all his life.

A son of the late Jacob and Laura Ridinger Starnes, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margie Rebert Starnes, and the following children: Wilson and Melvin, New Oxford R. 1; Levere, of Hampton; Lester, Gardner's R. 1, and Mrs. Mildred Hoffman, Idaville. He is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Curvin, Hanover R. D.; Sterling, Downey, Calif.; Lanton, William, Mrs. Miriam Bortner and Mrs. Charles Halter, all of Hanover, and Mrs. Esplanida Auchey, Hanover R. D.; and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the Hampton Lutheran Church with the Rev. Jack Gardner officiating. Friends may call at the Pittenuff Funeral Home, York Springs, Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. Interment will be in the Hampton Cemetery.

Bureau Holds Annual Dinner

The annual dinner meeting of the Credit Bureau of Adams County was held at Ditzler's restaurant, Biglerville, Tuesday evening at 7:30 with approximately 80 members present. Attyrs. Charles W. Wolf and Eugene Hartman and Tom Murphy Jr., manager of the Hagerstown Credit Bureau, spoke. President Robert Codori presided.

The following were elected to the board of directors: James Shetter, Clair Grim and Paul Wagner from the Biglerville district; Aero Oil Co. from the New Oxford district; R. W. Wentz, James Reaver, William Musser, Minter's Store, H. and H. Machine Shop, John Hewitt, First National Bank, Adams County Motors, Swope's Atlantic and Robert Codori from Gettysburg. Each district is allowed one board member to each 10 members. James Shetter was elected president; James Reaver, vice president, and Ernst Dulaney, treasurer, all to serve one year.

The next quarterly meeting will be held in August at the bureau office.

Burgess Tells Club Of Town Government

The operation of the Gettysburg borough government was discussed by Burgess William G. Weaver at the dinner meeting of the Gettysburg Kiwanis club Tuesday evening at the Dutch Cupboard with Past President Ernest Krape presiding in the absence of President Charles Graham.

He explained that the borough operates under the Borough Code of 1947, discussed the advantages and disadvantages of the parking meters and said there are comparatively few "deliberate violators." He described the systems for issuing building, digging, peddlers' and other permits and explained the current system for garbage disposal under which the garbage is gathered by private operators under borough ordinance.

The functions of the board of health and the police and fire departments were outlined and he told the clubmen the Zoning and Planning commission, now in its formative stages, soon will be in operation.

DR. WENTZ, SON EXCHANGE JOBS IN SEPTEMBER

Dr. A. R. Wentz, Springs Ave., and his son, Dr. Frederick K. Wentz, Columbia, S. C., will in effect swap jobs and homes this fall.

Dr. A. R. Wentz, for 30 years a member of the faculty of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary and its president for a decade, retired this spring as professor of church history at the local seminary because he had reached the age of 70.

In May, the board of directors of the seminary, filling the posts vacated by Dr. Wentz, made some revisions of duties and elected Dr. A. R. Wentz's son, Dr. Frederick K. Wentz, as professor of historical theology at the seminary here, a post which partially overlaps the duties which the father previously had.

To Be Guest Professor

To accept the post here Dr. Frederick K. Wentz resigned as professor of church history at the Lutheran Theological Southern Seminary, Columbia, S. C.

That left a vacancy there, and the professor who is to fill the post is now completing his studies at the University of North Carolina and will not be available for the duties for another year.

SEIZE NEGRO FOR WOMAN'S BRUTAL MURDER

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Negro handyman was seized today and charged with the murder-assault of a matron in the fashionable suburbs of North Baltimore.

Police were holding Carl Daniel Kier, 21, at the Parkville police station on homicide charges.

Police said he was originally from Roanoke, Va., and was unmarried and unemployed.

They said he had been soliciting work in the area yesterday where the victim, Mrs. John H. Bopet, 48, lived.

Signs of Struggle
Kier had left his name and address with another woman in the neighborhood. She had tossed a notation of the name and address into a wastebasket. After the murder, the note was found and resulted in Kier's quick arrest.

Police said they found many "sex" books in his room.

Two butcher knives, a Japanese saber, still in its scabbard, and a heavy brass figurine were used as weapons in the slaying of the mother of four.

She was eating a bowl of ice cream when the intruder forced open a screen door and surprised her. Police in Baltimore County said the crime was the "most brutal assault" they had ever seen. Bloodstains were found on a table, the ice cream was spattered about and there were signs of a furious struggle.

PARADISE TWP.

the resolution required a favorable majority vote of all five boards comprising the jointure.

Won't Help On Defense
All of the districts are in Adams County except Paradise which is in York County.

Leppo said that the Paradise and Reading townships notified the joint board that they would not contribute any funds towards the defense of the severance action to be instituted against the joint board.

Leppo asserted that the Paradise board, acting independently, already has launched plans to build a nine-room elementary building near Lincoln View motel along the Lincoln Highway. The action to construct the $372,000 building has received approval of the York County School Board and the State Department of Public Instruction, Leppo said.

Leppo asserted that additional facilities are needed for Paradise township elementary pupils who have been attending four one-room buildings and the Abbottstown school which he said are overcrowded. Of the 230 township pupils almost 60 go to Abbottstown and the remainder to the one-room buildings.

Formed Eight Years Ago
Township high school pupils attend the East Berlin High School and should the Paradise board be permitted to sever from the joint board there is a possibility the joint board would not accept high school pupils from the township and they probably would have to go elsewhere on a tuition basis, Leppo stated.

The Conewago jointure was formed in April, 1948. During the ensuing years no agreement was reached on providing additional school facilities, Leppo said, although several plans were proposed, including construction of an 18-room building in East Berlin; two nine-room buildings in Paradise and Reading townships; and three six-room buildings in those two townships and at Abbottstown.

Leppo said all schools in the jointure are overcrowded, some elementary pupils attending classes in the firemen's building and a garage at East Berlin.

At the November, 1955, general election the Paradise voters rejected a move which would have included them in the Dover Area Joint School system.

DISTELFINK TO OPEN THURSDAY

Sandoe's Distelfink, a new ice cream drive-in, which was recently opened for business on the Harrisburg Rd. by Distelfink, Inc., one of a chain in the state, will have its ribbon-cutting Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. In observance of the occasion, two ice cream cones may be purchased that day for the price of one.

On top of the neon sign is a reproduction of a Distelfink, a Dutch legendary bird signifying "something good." Hex signs on the exterior of the building carry out the Dutch theme. Waitresses wear Dutch aprons.

David and Cecil Sandoe, Biglerville, managers, plan to add curb service later.

Ice cream, hot dogs, hamburgers, barbecues (beef, pork or ham), root beer, orange drinks and birch beer are available.

annual visiting day there on June 23.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hennig, representative of the Women's Civic Council, reported that the vote of the members was not to take any action on the fluoridation of Gettysburg water, feeling that such action should come from a dental or medical group.

Mrs. S. A. Burton, representative on the Gettysburg Anniversary Committee, reported that plans were being made to have an old picture show in the lobby of The Gettysburg National Bank. A special committee will be appointed to handle this project.

Picnic In July
Mrs. Guyon E. Buhler, public relations chairman, asked members to sign for work in the Travel Council office this summer. She also distributed a questionnaire of individual service to community and nation to be completed by members and sent in and compiled with those of the other clubs in the federation.

The club will have its annual picnic in July, on a date selected by the Social Activities Committee. Mrs. Fred Faber, chairman. A trip to one of the nearby summer theaters is being considered for August.

Mrs. George W. Boehner will be the club's official delegate to the biennial convention of American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs to be held at the Waldorf-Astoria July 29-August 3. She and Mrs. Donald E. Myers and Mrs. Guyon E. Buhler will attend the sessions of the quadrennial convention of International Soroptimist Clubs at the same place August 6 to 11.

Twenty-one members attended the meeting at which Mrs. Boehner, first vice president, presided. Miss Martha Stallsmith president, with her sister, Miss Elizabeth Stallsmith, flew to Mexico City, last week to spend three weeks with their sister, Senora Ruth S. de Quintanilla. She sent a report that she had presented the club's annual Helen L. Cope award for the four year high school girl who excelled in English to Miss Susan Britcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Britcher. A letter of appreciation was received from Miss Britcher, who will enter Gettysburg College in the fall.

Close Fund Campaign
The financial campaign for the local Day Care Center for Retarded Children will be officially closed this week. These funds are being used to equip the new location of the center in the Plank Building on E. High St.

A gift presented by Mrs. Harry Scott was awarded to Mrs. Burton. At the close of the business meeting Miss Virginia Myers, Ways and Means chairman, conducted a sale of the parcel post packages which friends of members have sent during the month.

A meeting of the board of directors preceded the business meeting.

President Is

Panama he will be unable to attend the conference of the presidents of American states in Panama City on the scheduled dates of June 25-26. But he will be "very happy" to consider going at a later date if the other American presidents concur in a postponement.

Ignore Butler Attack
Hagerty said he would not "dignify . . . with an answer" a contention by Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee that Hagerty has handled "the whole history of Eisenhower's two illnesses in terms of propaganda." Butler said at Chicago that reports by the military and civilian doctors attending Eisenhower seem designed to convince people he "is a better man" because of his operation and his Sept. 24 heart attack.

Hagerty replied last night he believes "the American people and the news media" are convinced that the day-to-day reports on Eisenhower's condition here and in Denver "have been honest and completely factual."

Hagerty was praised by Eisenhower for "his mastery of his field and his constant devotion to the public interest." The words were contained in a letter Eisenhower signed in bed.

The letter was addressed to H. Kenneth Brown, president of the Advertising Club of Washington and was read later at a club luncheon. Hagerty attended the affair, held in his honor.

and after three months in Pennsylvania will spend three months in South Dakota while two other Pakistani IFYE students now in the Dakotas come to Pennsylvania for a stay. A fifth Pakistan youth in the group is spending his entire six months in Kentucky, visiting the Kentucky youth who spent six months with him in Pakistan last year.

The IFYE program is a joint effort between the National 4-H Club Foundation, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Extension service and the Ford Foundation.

Sarker says the Tates are "wonderful people," and the youngest of the five Tate children, three-year-old Nina Jane, has adopted the Pakistani as "her very best friend."

Married, but as yet childless, Sarker hopes someday to have a daughter like Nina Jane.

No IFYE students were scheduled for Adams County this year, but when illness developed in a Cumberland County family with whom Sarker was to stay, the Tates were able to become hosts for the young Pakistani.

That the Tates and Adams Counties generally are pleased to have the IFYE guests was well demonstrated last year. When the four young men from India concluded their six-months tour last year they had a week of free time to travel where they wished in the U. S. They made a quick decision—they all came back to Adams County to stay with the people here, including the Tates, with whom they had resided for three months during the summer.

Joint School Board Approves Entrance Of West Manheim Students At Littlestown High

The students of West Manheim Twp. were accepted into the Littlestown Joint School System, and the purchase of a new bus was approved at the meetings of the Joint School Committee and the Joint Board held Tuesday evening at the high school building.

The board voted to purchase a new 60 passenger GMC bus from Peterman Pontiac, Hanover, at a bid of $5,682. One new teacher, Mary Berthold, New Freedom, a Gettysburg College graduate, was elected to teach English and music in the junior-senior high school. The budget of $259,205, for 1956-57, as presented at a former meeting, was approved for final adoption. The treasurer of Germany Twp. was elected to serve as treasurer of the joint board and bonded for $10,000.

Accept Tuition Students

The board was in receipt of a communication from West Manheim Twp., that they send their ninth grade pupils to Littlestown High for the 1956-57 term, and also to send their ninth and tenth grade pupils for the 1957-58 school term, in accordance with a resolution adopted by the West Manheim board on May 28, 1956. It was voted to accept these pupils on a tuition basis.

The board approved the recommendation of Supervising Principal Paul E. King that the annual senior class trip to Washington be made in the fall, following football season, instead of in the spring, beginning with the new school term. King pointed out that the change would enable the students to make better use of the educational and instructional advantages of the trip during the remainder of the school year.

The June report of Treasurer John W. Schwartz follows: May receipts, $19,822.92; expenditures for general control, $115.50; instruction, $13,959.57; auxiliary activities, $1,399.43; coordinate activities, $316.39; operation of plants, $767.40; maintenance of plants, $347.02; fixed charges, $29.03; total of $16,934.88.

Streig Report

George W. Streig, chairman of the property and supplies committee, reported on a recent session of his committee, when the three school buildings were inspected, and recommended changes and repairs as follows at the E. King St. school: installation of a new gas burner and letting of bids for burners and automatic water feeder; repairs to toilets; possibilities of putting shower heads in the basement, where pipelines and drainage are already installed, and painting of four rooms in the west wing of the building.

Rolling Acres Elementary School: placement of a pit and pump to prevent water from running in the boiler room. Junior-Senior High School: painting of two rooms; general repairs to the desks, floors, etc., and spraying and clearing of grass around the athletic field. All of the repairs are to be made by local help with the exception of the big being left. The recommendations were adopted by the board members present, including Clayton Harget, George W. Streig, John W. Schwartz, Glenn C. Bowers, George W. Worley, Fred Hartlaub, Joseph Clabaugh, Clement B. Hawn, Lloyd E. Crouse, Charles M. A. Shildt, Reginald Zepp, Wilbur E. Mackley, Karl P. Bankert, Dale W. Stary, Wade H. Brown, Arthur E. Buehler, Carl H. Baumgardner, Henry E. Waltman.

King informed the board that the school band had accepted to date 24 engagements for the summer. The band will provide musical accompaniment for the local marching unit of the Alpha Fire Company.

New Bleachers Erected

The principal announced that the new bleachers ordered and received for Memorial Field have been erected. He told the board that 62 boys and girls of the Jointure did not pass the required standards for the 1955-56 term and were withheld. A total of 13,587 meals were served during the month of May in the cafeteria. The report of the school nurse, Mrs. Brenda B. Walker, was presented by Mr. King, revealing that 14 home visits were made during May; 185 first aid treatments in school and one student required treatment in a physician's office. There was a complete survey of handicapped and those with special needs in the school district and the general health of the pupils throughout the school year was reported good. A summary of the year's activities by Mrs. Walker included: 378 pupils examined; 253 were found normal and 125 with remedial defects; 27 tonsillitometries; 42 cases of defective vision were corrected with glasses; 50 health talks were given and 25 demonstrations; 2,016 accidents were recorded; 2,754 first aid treatments given. The boards will meet again on Tuesday, July 3.

Littlestown

The Little League baseball organization of Littlestown will hold a food sale Friday afternoon starting at 4 o'clock in the engine house. Parents and friends of the Little Leaguers are invited to send donations of food for the sale. Carl H. Baumgardner has contributed 78 pounds of chicken for sandwiches and chicken corn soup for the sale. Proceeds from the affair will be used to purchase new uniforms for the players.

Seventy-five persons attended the annual family picnic held by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Alpha Fire Company Sunday evening at Taneytown Memorial Park. Lunch was served. It was decided to hold the affair on the third Sunday in June of each year.

There will be a special meeting of the Auxiliary on July 30 at the engine house to make plans to assist with the serving of refreshments at the annual carnival to be held by the company during the first week in August.

The piano pupils of Miss Mary Rita Redding will present a recital Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in the POS of A Hall. The pupils will rehearse at 2 p.m. Thursday in the hall. The Uniform Rank of the Alpha Fire Company will participate in the Taneytown Firemen's parade Thursday evening leaving at 6:30 p.m. from the engine house. The unit will be accompanied by the Littlestown High School Band which will leave from the school at 6:30 o'clock.

Members of Troops 43 and 45, Girl Scouts and Brownies and guests who made a bus trip to Baltimore Tuesday, included the following: Ann Kroh, Linda Frock, Gail Reindollar, Sally Bigelow, Carol Fox, Betty Lou Sell, Patsy Harner, Kathryn Weikert, Ellen Miller, Karen Sawyer, Linda Knipfle, Judy Brown, Phyllis Wallick, Marilyn Miller, Sharon Long, Linda Sentz, Judy Kowitz, Carolyn Kump, Barbara Pittenfort, Barbara Rutter, Linda Keefe, Martha Ritter, Sally Bankert, Susan A. Miss Norma Jean Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Edgar Peterson, Cavetown, Md., became the bride of Lee Jennings Kelbaugh Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jennings Kelbaugh, of Thurmont, Md., in Christ's Evangelical and Reformed Church of Cavetown, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Richard Fehnel performed the double ring ceremony. Gilbert Kelbaugh, a brother of the bridegroom, was acolyte. Wedding music was presented by Miss Agnes Funk, organist, and James Fisher, vocalist.

The bride's cousin, Mrs. Paul Mayes, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Phyllis Smith, of Smithsburg, and Mrs. Shirley Smith, of Smithsburg. Both are cousins of the bride.

Serving as best man for his brother was Sterling Kelbaugh, of Thurmont. The ushers were Chester Zentz Jr. and Anthony Nusbbaum Jr., both of Thurmont, and Glenn Peterson, brother of the bride.

There was a reception in the church social rooms after the ceremony. The newlyweds left for a wedding trip to New York. Mrs. Kelbaugh is a graduate of Certificates for faithful attendance will be awarded.

Toll Boost Delay May Cost $9,000

HARRISBURG (AP)—The decision to postpone proposed auto and truck toll increases by the Turnpike Commission on May 23 cost at least $9,000.

The commission yesterday authorized payment of a bill of just over $9,000 to International Business Machines for readjustment of the scales and registers and the turnpike's 34 interchanges.

They had been rigid to reflect the new rates and truck classes which were to be effective May 25 but had to be changed back to the old schedules when the commission indefinitely postponed effectiveness of the new tolls.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Good Evening: We wonder where the 100 or more students who graduated Monday will be ten years from now.

Hall Falling On Fruit Belt Cuts Young Apples To Bits In Pierce Weekend Storm: For the third Sunday this year, hail fell on Adams county and caused damage to fruit crops. This past Sunday Quaker Valley and orchards in the vicinity of Flora Dale, Aspers and Gardner bore the brunt of the storm which was general over the county during the afternoon and caused losses estimated in thousands of dollars.

While the loss cannot be determined exactly, it is believed that the section of the upper end fruit belt struck by the storm will have a ten per cent apple crop this year as a result. Fruit men of that section declare the small apples were cut to pieces by the hail shower.

The heaviest loss reported was suffered by Frederick Grist, prominent Flora Dale orchardist, who estimated his own loss from hail damage at $8,000. Many other orchard owners suffered equal losses. Among the orchards reported suffering heavy damage were the Tyson orchards, the Oliver Heacock orchard, the Prickett orchard, Earl Garretson and others.

Kenneth Dengler Gets Academy Post: Kenneth Dengler, Lincolnway East, who recently was graduated from the Thompson Business School, York, today began his duties as secretary to the business manager at Mercersburg Academy. Dengler, who was graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1930, is the first to graduate from the York school as an operator of the dactytype, a machine by which shorthand is written.

Senator Davis Blames Times on "Economic Indigestion" in Commencement Address: "Economic Indigestion" described as one of the main contributing factors of the "business ailments" which have affected the United States during the world-wide epidemic of trade depression, was the subject of an address by Senator James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, at the ninety-ninth annual commencement exercises of Gettysburg College, in the Majestic Theater, Carlisle street, Monday morning.

One hundred and twenty-eight academic degrees and six honorary degrees were conferred at the exercises. "The eyes of industry have been bigger than its stomach, and it is evident that it has been biting off more than it can chew in its orgy of unrestricted high-pressure production output which far exceeds sound consumption demands, and which is contrary to the fundamental principles of economic law," Senator Davis said.

Gettysburg Girl Is Cornell Senior: Mary Jane Snyder, of Gettysburg, is on the provisional list of candidates for the degree of bachelor of arts to be conferred June 15 at Cornell University.

Dr. Tilberg Is Head Of Lions: Dr. W. E. Tilberg, dean of Gettysburg College, was elected president of the Gettysburg Lions' club at the weekly meeting at the Hotel Gettysburg Monday evening. He succeeds Dr. R. D. Wickerham, Broadway.

Other officers chosen include A. E. Hutchinson, Ralph Z. Oyler and R. W. Wentz, vice presidents; Gulle W. Lefever, secretary; Emory H. Doughty, treasurer; Dr. E. H. Markley and Robert E. Elmsinger, directors; Robert Hartley, tall twister; Harry Oyler, lion tamer and G. N. Waters, club jester.

Hendersons Leave On European Tour: Dr. and Mrs. Ira M. Henderson, Fairfield, are sailing from New York on Friday on the S. S. Homeric for a thirty-day trip to Europe. They will land at Southampton, England, on June 20 and tour through the British Isles and France. Mrs. Henderson goes as an official delegate from the United States to the World Stewardship Conference at Edinburgh, Scotland.

Today's Talk

WORLD OF WONDER

I walk over the small yard about my home, and though I have had it for some years, every time I walk out in it I see something new, something of wonder. In the springtime there are small flowers all about the wooded section, there is a constant running of water from a spring, and there are birds that return year by year. This year I was thrilled to find many scarlet tanagers that came for food, arriving from their more accustomed places because of the cool springtime.

This is a world of wonder. So common a thing as a starry night can be looked upon as a thing of wonder, but if you would look at the same sky under a powerful telescope, you would gasp at the sight—so remarkable it is. The entire earth is a chemical laboratory. Sights of wonder are everywhere. Take a maple or oak leaf and examine it. What a thing of perfect beauty and construction! Each has a perfect design distinctive to itself and each has a delicate circulatory system.

The spider's web in the sunlight, the ant hill, the various nests of birds, each characteristically its own species when it comes to nest building, these, and literally thousands of other sights in nature are there for the enjoyment and wonder of us all. I have learned much from birds, squirrels and other animals. Some starlings have built a nest in the under side of the cornice of my home, a few feet from there I write. I see them carrying nest material, and it seems to me that these starlings have plenty of friends, for they are coming and going all day long.

All this gold, silver, iron, copper, and other materials that have to be mined, as well as precious stones, get my interest, and I marvel at an earth so rich. There is so much to see all over this earth that fills one with wonder, and so much of it is free to us to look upon. We live in a world of wonder. How happy we should be!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Sustaining Qualities."

Just Folks

A DOMESTIC PANACEA

When the servant has quit,
When the children are bad,
When she's not feeling fit
But is gloomy and sad,
When things have gone wrong
In the house or the flat,
You can cheer her along
If you buy her a hat.

When she's down in the dumps
Of domestic despair,
When her little head thumps
With an ache she can't bear,
When she hasn't a smile,
And she kicks at the cat,
She'll be happy a while
If you buy her a hat.

When you've stayed out at night
And she starts in to scold,
When you haven't done right
But don't want to be told,
When you know in the air
There is brewing a spat,
You can stop it right there
If you'll buy her a hat.

Forecast Healthy Fall Apple Crop

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — There'll be no shortage of good quality apples this year, despite late frosts which killed off 20 million bushels in the nation.

That's the word from 200 apple growers from 35 states who met here yesterday at the annual convocation of the National Apple Institute.

The growers guessed that the 1956 crop would be about 85 million bushels, compared with 103 million for last year. Washington suffered the largest loss—about 12 million bushels—while Michigan showed the largest expected gain.

PUNISH FATHER IN BOY'S DEATH; BLAME SOCIETY

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — Judge Carleton T. Woodring sentenced a father to from 6 to 12 years in Northampton County prison in the death of the man's 5-year-old son and then lashed at society in general as the real culprit in the case.

Doctors testified yesterday at the trial of Alfred Mueller, 53, that his son, died of pneumonia, a mild form of pneumonia, but added that the basic cause was anemia, apparently due to malnutrition.

Mueller was sentenced to jail after he interrupted the trial to plead guilty to causing the death of his son, William. The court fixed the crime at second degree murder.

Mentally Ill

Mueller's 24-year-old wife, who sat in the courtroom holding hands with her husband, was committed to the Laurelton State Village for Mental Defectives after defense counsel petitioned the court to rule her mentally deficient and incapable of standing trial.

Judge Woodring said that between the lines of the indictment was a guilty indictment against churches, schools and the county for failing to inquire about conditions at the Mueller home and doing something about it.

The Muellers were arrested a few days after they reported the victim missing on April 21. Police said Mueller, father of three other children, confessed the youngster died while being punished that day and that he tossed the body in the Delaware River. It was recovered.

Long Confinements

He told police that the usual form of punishment for his children was confinement in their rooms for long periods of time. Mueller, an employee of the State Department of Forests and Waters, lives in an old Lock Tender's House owned by the state on the Delaware Division Canal at near-by Raubsville. He and his wife moved there a few years ago after living in Bucks County, Pa.

It was testified that the couple lived in Middlesex County, N.J., and had been brought before that county's court in 1951 on charges of child neglect. Mrs. Mueller then was committed to a state institution for about three months and the children were taken from the couple for a year.

The Mueller's oldest child is six, while the others are one and three.

HUNT LEADER OF REBELLION, ONE EXECUTED

By BRUCE HENDERSON
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Authorities pushed a dogged hunt today for a second top leader of last weekend's rebellion after seizing and speedily executing his chief in the uprising.

Still sought was Gen. Raul Tanco, an army leader in the regime of ousted President Juan Peron. Executed by a firing squad last night was Gen. Juan Jose Valle, who had hoped to become president if the revolt succeeded.

An army spokesman said police were in hot pursuit of Tanco but gave no details. The government earlier asserted Tanco had been selected to take over as vice president under Valle.

Cut Down
Also cut down by a firing squad in the latest executions was Juan Alberto Abadie, an army reserve lieutenant who was second in command of the uprising within the 7th Infantry Regiment at La Plata.

A government communique announced the two executions but did not say where or when they were carried out. Unofficial sources reported Valle was put to death at the national penitentiary. He was seized in a police raid on a downtown apartment not far from headquarters of Provisional President Pedro Aramburu.

Abadie was reported executed in the kennel area of provincial police headquarters at La Plata. A government statement said he had confessed the slaying of Federal Police Inspector Rafael Fernandez last Sunday morning.

Execute 25

Firing squads earlier had executed 25 persons as participants in the rebellion which broke out Saturday night and was put down after a bloody 12-hour fight.

A source close to the government said death sentences imposed on 150 to 200 rebels had been commuted to life imprisonment. Military courts still were sitting in secret sessions to deliberate the fate of others seized.

York Springs

YORK SPRINGS — Daniel Williams has returned to York Springs after completing his second year at Anderson College, Anderson, Ind. He will work this summer for Eugene Reynolds at the painting trade.

Scott Plank is ill at his home. Larry Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hess, of Bermudian, and Richard Decker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Decker, York Springs, passed their examinations on Tuesday and on next Tuesday morning at 2:30 o'clock they will leave York for Parris Island, S. C., where they will receive training in the U. S. Marine Corps. They were members of the 1956 graduating class of the York Springs High School.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Roy Starry have returned to their home in York Springs. Mrs. Starry had gone to Foley, Ala., where Mr. Starry was working on a government assignment and while there received word that their son, David, was a patient in the hospital in New Orleans, La. She went to him and remained there for some time.

Rev. William Ocker and family are expected to arrive in York Springs on Monday and will occupy the parsonage of the Church of God. He will serve as pastor of the York Springs Church of God.

The following from York Springs are with the group who left York Springs and Dillsburg on a large bus of Wolf's Bus Line early Monday morning for California: Mr. and Mrs. William Weidner, Mrs. William Flickinger and children, Joanne and Fred, Miss Kathryn O'Boyle, Mrs. June Rockey, Bruce Wagner, Mrs. Annie Taylor and Mrs. Black, of Lattimore. Boyd Darr is the driver. They will be gone a month. They are scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles on June 22.

John Brough left Monday morning in his car for California. He is on an assignment from the Middletown Air Depot where he is employed.

Mrs. Lindsey, Gap, Pa., spent the weekend with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. William Flickinger, and family.

Daniel Williams, student of Anderson College, will be the speaker for both the morning and evening worship services.

The York Springs Methodist Church will hold its Father and Son banquet on Thursday night at the fire hall.

The York Springs Lutheran Church will hold its Father and Son banquet on Saturday night at the fire hall.

MORE ARRESTS FOR SPEEDING IN NEW SETUP

HARRISBURG (AP) — State police arrests for speeding are skyrocketing since Gov. Leader ordered a graduated scale of penalties for traffic violations.

Capt. Thomas P. Cahalan, state police traffic expert, disclosed today that 50 mph or more are now running 1,000 a month beyond comparable months last year.

"Enforcement officers on both the state and local level feel the new policy on suspension is more reasonable," he told a newsman.

More Rigid Enforcement
"Therefore, they are applying the law more rigidly with the knowledge that the habitual offender is going to be hit hard."

Cahalan lauded the new system as far more fair than the old method.

"Actually, there's really no way to evaluate whether it is superior to the old," he told a newsman.

"In the final analysis, the success of this or any other highway safety program depends on public acceptance."

Only two full months of statistics are available since the graduated penalty arrangements became effective in February.

In March, fatalities fell to 107 compared to 112 in the same month of 1955. The April figure amounted to 141 in comparison to 144 in April of last year.

The 248 fatalities for February and March, however, compared to 289 for January and February—two of the worst months in the state's traffic safety history.

Many More Arrests
On speeding suspensions, the number in March totaled 390 compared to 3,190 in the same month of 1955. In April, they totaled 1,283, a sharp drop from the 2,098 of April last year. The March figure is so low because the Highway Safety Bureau held up suspensions while violations were being tied into the new program.

Arrests for speeding under the stepped up program ordered by the governor showed 3,627 for March and 4,050 for April compared to 2,062 for January and 2,123 for February.

Wins Annulment In Unfulfilled Union

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Joyce Russell von Tannenberg, 23, of Merchantville, N. J., has won an annulment of her marriage to Baron Erich von Tannenberg, 32. She was awarded the annulment yesterday by State Supreme Court Justice James B. McNally, who heard Mrs. Von Tannenberg testify that the marriage never was consummated.

Mrs. Von Tannenberg said that after their marriage Feb. 12, 1955, her husband told her women were repulsive to him. She quoted him as saying he married her because he wanted to get away from an "unnatural life."

He is the son of a Russian baron and baroness and is employed as a steamship passenger clerk.

She is the daughter of a Philadelphia utilities executive.

A counter-claim by the baron for a divorce was withdrawn.

PAY INCREASES IN WELFARE TO BEGIN SATURDAY

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Welfare Department disclosed today that Saturday it will begin a pay raise and personnel addition program in the state mental institutions that will cost about $8 million dollars for the balance of the current fiscal period ending May 31, 1957.

State Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro said the personnel additions and salary increases will be in the nursing and psychiatric aide services of the department. Shapiro said the new wage scales will be established on the basis of professional experience within and without the state system accredited to each employee in these fields.

He said 3 million of the total increase will go to 5,500 psychiatric aides formerly classified as attendants and to 1,000 nurses now working in state mental hospitals and schools for the mentally retarded.

Contingent with the pay scale boost, Shapiro said he abolished the classification of attendant in favor of psychiatric aide.

The department, he added, is "aiming its sights" on hiring 1,000 more aides which Shapiro estimated will account for another 3 million from the $8 million figure.

Five hundred more nurses also will be hired by the department at a cost of 2 million dollars during the remainder of the fiscal period.

He said the announcements of increased pay scales has prompted more applications for state employment in his department.

Last night Shapiro said he is still looking for a mental health commissioner to take over direct supervision of mental institutions in the state.

A $25,000-a-year salary—or possibly more—is being offered for the "right person" to fill the post, Shapiro added.

He said on a television panel program (Capitol Correspondents—WTAP) that plans are already being made to ask the 1957 Legislature for an additional 12 million dollars to pay increased salaries to what he described as "underpaid personnel" at state institutions.

uated penalty arrangements became effective in February.

In March, fatalities fell to 107 compared to 112 in the same month of 1955. The April figure amounted to 141 in comparison to 144 in April of last year.

The 248 fatalities for February and March, however, compared to 289 for January and February—two of the worst months in the state's traffic safety history.

Many More Arrests
On speeding suspensions, the number in March totaled 390 compared to 3,190 in the same month of 1955. In April, they totaled 1,283, a sharp drop from the 2,098 of April last year. The March figure is so low because the Highway Safety Bureau held up suspensions while violations were being tied into the new program.

Arrests for speeding under the stepped up program ordered by the governor showed 3,627 for March and 4,050 for April compared to 2,062 for January and 2,123 for February.

4 GOP SENATORS SEE EISENHOWER AS PARTY PICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Republican senators said today they are not even considering the possibility that President Eisenhower will change his mind about running again.

And Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), an aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination, said he thinks the "Republicans will run the President if they can possibly do it."

Kefauver also said he regards as "wide open" the Democratic race and has no intention of quitting it because of his crushing defeat in the California primary by Adlai E. Stevenson.

Not Sewed Up

"I don't think anybody has the nomination sewed up and I am going to continue my campaign to get it," Kefauver said. "I took the hard ones along with the easy ones in the primaries and California was a hard one for me."

"But I am encouraged by the reassurances I have had from my supporters since then. My delegates are all standing firmly behind me."

Stevenson's friends have talked of a possible second-ballot nomination, but Kefauver said he doesn't think anything like that will happen. Kefauver said he does not have any agreement with Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who threw his hat into the ring as an active candidate Saturday.

Be Certain Nominee
Eisenhower is certain of the GOP nomination unless he should reverse his Feb. 29 decision to seek a second term.

The four Republicans — Senators Mundt of South Dakota, Payne of Maine, Bridges of New Hampshire and Jenner of Indiana—all figuratively threw up their hands when asked in separate interviews to speculate on the name of a candidate if Eisenhower doesn't run.

"My candidate is Eisenhower," Bridges said, "and beyond him I haven't got any candidate."

Jenner said he thinks Eisenhower is "indestructible" and will not be slowed down long.

Payne said: "I think those who say he might not be a candidate are just indulging in wishful thinking."

Mundt said he thinks Eisenhower will be able to put on a more vigorous campaign than ever because an old physical ailment has been removed by the operation.

Similarly, former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York said he doesn't believe Eisenhower's illness will have any effect on the situation.

"The fact that he could stand the operation without notice shows the completeness of his recovery from his heart attack last fall," Dewey said.

$500,000 Fire Ruins University Building

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Fire destroyed the engineering department building at West Virginia University early today. The roof and floors gave way with a roar at the height of the blaze, which left most of the large brick structure in ruins.

Nearby buildings were threatened but not damaged. No one was hurt.

The building, Mechanical Hall, housed the university's mechanical, electrical and aeronautical engineering departments.

Damage was unofficially estimated at close to $500,000.

Clelis Pride, assistant director of the university's bureau of information, said as far as he knew there were no explosives in the hall.

Cause of the blaze was not immediately known.

$600,000 NUMBER RACKET EXPOSED

HARRISBURG (AP) — State and city police last night uncovered what they described as a midstate numbers gambling operation with an annual gross of $600,000.

Dauphin County Dist. Atty. Huyette F. Dowling, said one man was taken into custody during a raid by dozens of local and state police on a downtown Harrisburg apartment.

Dowling said Lee M. Moore, 58, of Harrisburg, was released on $1,000 bail and will be charged to day with violation of lottery laws.

Find Number Slips

The district attorney said "thousands of numbers slips" were found in the apartment during the raid coordinated by Capt. John D. Keim, Pennsylvania state police

Pirates Take Over Lead In National With 4 To 3 Win Over Redlegs; 3 Hot Teams

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

One of those clubs in the National League race is prime for a pennant pushoff in this hectic month of June, but which one? Pittsburgh? The Pirates are still hot, winning 7 of the 12 games they've played this month. But so have the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Brooklyn? The world champions are looking real healthy, winning 8 of 13 in June. But the Chicago Cubs have won 9 of 12.

It's been a confused month so far. The lead has changed hands three times in 12 days. Pittsburgh has a half-game edge at the moment, after knocking the Redlegs into second with a 4-3 decision last night.

Cubs Jar Giants
The Dodgers kept edging toward the top, banging St. Louis 6-4 and dropping the Cardinals, who have lost 7 of 13 this month, to fourth. Chicago, hustling out of the cellar in its hot streak, knocked New York loose from sixth place by whacking the Giants 8-5.

Milwaukee, in first May 31, is a solid fifth at the moment, losing its ninth in the last 12 in a 5-2 pasting by Philadelphia.

The American League race is easier to figure. The New York Yankees are 4½ games to the good after making it 6 out of 6 against the third-place Chicago White Sox 4-2. Runner-up Cleveland was beaten at Boston 9-7. Detroit beat Baltimore 8-1 to regain fifth from the Orioles. Kansas City broke out for six runs in the 15th inning to take Washington 9-3.

A pinch two-run homer by Jack Sheppard and a follow-up two-run smack by Roberto Clemente hoisted the Pirates back into the lead. Both came in the fifth inning.

Score On Error
The Dodgers scored the clincher against the Cards on an error. Carl Erskine, who had lost six straight since his May 12 no-hitter, won in relief, but needed relief help himself in the eighth from Clem Labine.

Monte Irvin, the ex-Giant, batted in four runs in a pair of three-run Cub innings that beat New York.

Willie Jones homered with a man on as the Phils scored five unearned runs in the fifth at Milwaukee to beat Bob Buhl.
Andy Carey drove three Yankees home, with a home run and one of his two singles, while Whitey Ford kept the White Sox hitless until the seventh, when they bunched their four hits—all singles—for two runs.

Boston uncorked five runs in the seventh on Ted Williams' RBI double that tied it 5-5, a three-run homer by Ted Lepore and a solo poke by Pete Daley. Early Wynn lost his third while Frank Sullivan won his fifth.

Billy Hoelt won his seventh, chipping in a two-run double in Detroit's six-run eighth.

A double by Enos Slaughter and a single by Mike Baxes scored the clincher for the A's, who then added five more in the big 15th.

4 Cardinals Lead All-Star Voting

NEW YORK (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals lead the field with four Redbirds on top in the balloting for the National League team for the 1956 All-Star baseball game at Washington July 10.

Red Schoendienst is the leader at second base with a 5,194-vote margin over Cincinnati's Johnny Temple. Ken Boyer has a 2,593-vote edge over Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews at third; Rip Repulski leads Philadelphia's Del Ennis by 807 for left field, and Stan Musial has a 4,692-vote lead over Milwaukee's Hank Aaron for right field.

Schoendienst has polled the most votes in the National League with 5,348 while Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' young slugger, is the over-all leader with an 8,635 count and a 7,970-vote edge over Boston's Jim Piersall for the American League's center-field position.

The voting, conducted by newspapers, radio stations and television stations and tabulated by the office of Commissioner Ford Frick, ends June 26.

Moore Or Patterson To Be Next Champ

NEW YORK (AP) — President Jim Norris of the International Boxing Club said today that both the New York State Athletic Commission and the National Boxing Assn. have indicated they would recognize the winner of the proposed Archie Moore-Floyd Patterson bout as heavyweight champion.

The bout probably will be held in the Yankee Stadium at the end of September if Patterson's broken right hand heals in time. He suffered the injury last Friday when he decimated Hurricane Jackson.

24 FALL TILTS

FACE BULLETS NEXT SEASON

Gettysburg College teams will participate in 24 intercollegiate events during the 1956 fall sports program, according to schedules released this week by the Department of Athletics.

The bullet football team, following two eight-game seasons, will return to its traditional nine-game card, opening with Lehigh at Bethlehem, Pa., on Sept. 22. The rest of the schedule includes a battle with Bucknell on Sept. 29 in the annual Hershey, Pa., Chocolate Bowl contest, home games with Albright, Western Maryland, Muhlenberg and Scranton, and away contests with Lafayette, Temple and Franklin and Marshall. John Yovissich will begin his fifth season as coach.

Freshman football coach Jack Ridinger, former Bullet center, will lead his charges against Bucknell, Franklin and Marshall, Stevens Trade and Wesley Jr. College.

Bob Davies, former Rochester Royal basketball great, will begin his second season as head soccer mentor. The schedule calls for home games with Elizabethtown, Johns Hopkins, Franklin and Marshall, Georgetown, Delaware and Temple, and away battles against Lehigh, Drexel Wilkes, Bucknell and Western Maryland.

PIRATES WEAR GLASSES

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Occults might have had something to do with the good start the Pittsburgh Pirates enjoyed in the young National League season. At least count they had six players wearing eyeglasses — Outfielders Bill Virdon and Lee Walls, Infielders Curt Roberts and Dick Cole, Pitcher Jack McMahan and Catcher Hank Folles.

NEGRO IS AFTER OPEN TOURNEY

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Ted (Dusty) Rhodes, who broke the color line in big-time golf and taught Joe Louis how to swing a club, believes he has a good chance to become the first Negro to win the U.S. Open Championship.

"If I had to pick anybody it'd have to be me," the lean ex-caddy from Nashville, Tenn., said today with deadly seriousness. "I'm hitting that rock mighty good. I got a big chance."

Rhodes, 42, seven times national Negro champion, is here for the 56th Open Championship, which starts Thursday. Rhodes led the qualifying in the tough Chicago area with 72-68-140 at Medinah.

This is his second Open. He played at the Riviera Country Club in Los Angeles in 1948, finishing in a tie for 51st in the tournament won by Ben Hogan with a record 276.

Lions vs. Giants

The Eagles won their first game and also knocked the Giants out of a tie for first place in the Littlestown Little League Tuesday evening via a 5-4 victory.

After two were out in the third inning the Eagles scored four times. Harne doubled, Strevig singled, Sentz was safe on an error and Dick Seiwel singled. A walk to Pottoff and another error produced the runs.

In the last of the third the Giants scored three times and then knotted the score with a run in the fourth on doubles by Kroh and Bowman.

Win On Homerun

The winning run in the fifth came via "Gooney" Strevig's homerun to left center.

Dick Seiwel, winning pitcher, fanned 11 and walked but one in gaining his first victory. His opponent, Oaster, whiffed nine and walked only two.

This evening the Windsor Shoe Co. Big Little League team is host to a Gettysburg team on Memorial Field, Littlestown.

TEBBETTS SAYS PITTSBURGH AND MANAGER "HOT"

By JOE REICHLER

CINCINNATI (AP) — "It's a hot club, and the manager is hot, too."

That's Birdie Tebbetts' explanation of the upstart Pittsburgh Pirates who today were back in first place in the National League continuing to astound the baseball world.

"They're playing good baseball and I don't want to take anything away from them," said the outspoken Cincinnati manager after the Pirates had overcome an early 3-0 deficit to nip the Reds 4-3 last night and oust them from the top spot.

"But they're playing inspiring ball right now. Everything they do turns out right. As for Bobby Bragan, their manager, he reminds me of a dice player on a hot streak. Nothing but sevens."

"Every move Bobby makes turns out to be the right one. Like tonight. He calls for a pinch hitter (Jack Shepard) and he hits a home run. How many has he hit all year? Just two. He calls for a relief pitcher (Elroy Face) and he shuts us out for four innings."

Could Do No Wrong
"Then, in the ninth, when the guy gets in a jam, he goes to the bullpen again, and again he gets the brass ring. This time Nelson King shuts the door on our faces."

"It reminds me of Leo Durocher and the Giants in 1954. Remember that year? No matter whom Leo called off the bench or whom he summoned from the bullpen, the guy came through to win a game for them. He could do no wrong. That's the way it's been with Bragan this season."

The victory was a big one for Pittsburgh, but Bragan refused to become too excited.

"We've got a long way to go yet," he said, "and a lot can happen between now and October. Up to now we've been experimenting in an effort to put together our strongest lineup. I hope this one can be it—permanently."

"It all depends on two things, how well Frank Thomas shapes up at third base and Gene Freese at second. So far, Frank has done everything asked of him. So has Freese. The more I see of Bill Virdon in center field, the more I like him. I'm going to give him a chance to hit against all types of pitching."

"If he shows me he can do it, I think we'll have a set club for the first time this year."

STRAY MISSILES HIT CITY AREA; NO INJURIES

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Six rockets, fired from an F89 Scorpion jet fighter plane on a gunnery range near Fairbanks, slammed to earth on the southern outskirts of the city Monday night.

Police said there were no injuries and no property damage from the errant missiles, which were rigged with dummy heads not containing explosives.

The Air Force spokesman at Ladd Air Force Base, the plane's home field, termed the accident an "electronic miscalculation of distance." The rockets came from one of four Scorpions practice firing on the rocket range 27 miles south of here.

"Untrue" Equipment
As far as can be determined, the Air Force spokesman said, radar equipment being used to guide the Scorpions to the target was not "true."

When the rockets were fired, the spokesman said, the plane must have been closer to Fairbanks than 27 miles because the rockets being used did not have that much range.

One of the rockets hit the Richardson Highway. Several of the others landed near small homes on the southern outskirts of Fairbanks but caused no damage because of their nonexplosive nature.

Successful Location
Brig. Gen. T. Alan Bennett, commander of the 11th Air Division, said Air Force teams and Fairbanks police were successful in locating all the rockets.
"There was no human error," Bennett said. "The cause was an electronic miscalculation of distance."

10 REPUBLICAN SENATORS RALLY BEHIND LEADER

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP)—Ten Republican senators rallied today behind President Eisenhower's sickbed plea for more foreign aid money, appealing to their colleagues to uphold what they called his "staunch leadership for peace."

They took their stand in a joint statement a few hours before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was scheduled to begin work behind closed doors on a House-passed $3,800,000,000 foreign aid bill. This measure is $1,104,000,000 smaller than Eisenhower asked for economic and military assistance to free nations.

Committee Chairman George (D-Ga.) led in a move aimed at increasing the House total by 500 millions. Senate sources said passage of this proposal would be "difficult, but possible."

With Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), a senior member of the committee, already committed to fight for restoration of at least part of the House cuts, the 10 other Republicans voiced this admonition:

Sees Danger Ahead
"If we waver in our leadership, uncertainty and doubt among other nations can only lead to a drift that will endanger us all. Let us not throw away the best weapon we have against communism. This is the time above all to hold the staunch leadership for peace which the President represents for all the world."

The signers were Senators Clifford Case (NJ), Allott (Colo.), Bender (Ohio), Duff (Pa.), Bush (Conn.), Flanders (Vt.), Ives (NY), Kuchel (Calif.), Payne (Maine) and Purtell (Conn.).

Senate leaders who participated in a White House conference on the issue yesterday said the administration would settle for 600 millions above the House figure.

However, George's advocacy of a 500-million-dollar increase appeared to peg that figure as the top possibility. George has been the Democrats' chief congressional spokesman on foreign policy. The aid authorization measure

PROSPECTOR IS RESCUED AFTER BOAT UPSETS

MOAB, Utah (AP)—When a boat carrying two uranium prospectors capsized in the raging, muddy Colorado River, one of the men took off "over the rim" to the west.

The other, 43-year-old Charles L. Robinson of Hot Springs, Ark., elected to work along the river and eat berries to stay alive.

Robinson was rescued yesterday, exactly eight days after the mishap.

Instead of berries, he ate raw lizards and cactus, and he lost 42 pounds during his ordeal.

"Lizards taste a lot like sardines or tuna when a guy is good may reach the Senate floor next week.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee has proposed a reduction of one billion dollars below the House total. Several other senators also have come out for deep cuts, rather than boosts, in the House figure.

and hungry," he said as he recuperated in a Moab hospital.

Of his adventures, he commented: "This was a stupid, idiotic thing. . . I was rescued alive only by a divine act of God."

Feel Neck Getting Skinny
"There is nothing heroic about going through there. Those rapids are fantastic. . . You can't imagine how hot, precipitous the cliffs. . .

"You can feel your neck and wrists getting skinny. . . That stuff about living a month in the forest with a knife is too small. . .

Robinson declared he is going straight home to Hot Springs, Ark., "where there are trees and water. I've had enough of the Colorado."

Robinson's companion Bryan Waelder, 52, of Long Beach, Calif., was rescued last Friday after walking overland almost 100 miles through the desert toward Hanks-ville, Utah.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Wells of Hanksville, known as Utah's "Flying Bishop," spotted Waelder from the air and rescued him.

Several search parties continued the hunt for Robinson.

Tourist expenditures in Texas grew from 276 million dollars in 1950 to 412 million dollars in 1955.

SET TABLE TO SUIT OCCASION, CASUAL, FORMAL

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

The type of meal you plan to serve or the occasion for your luncheon or dinner party determines how you set your table.

A luncheon party is the time to use dainty appliqued place mats or for less formal luncheons, sturdy straw or plastic simulated linen type mats.

The setting is simple — knife, fork and spoon (if soup is to be served), bread and butter plate and butter knife. Water glasses, salt and pepper shakers and a lovely centerpiece go to the table.

A similar table may be set for Sunday night supper. But most people like a dinner cloth on the Sunday luncheon or dinner table. Many families make the Sunday meal a buffet affair, however, particularly when guests are invited.

Formal Damask
For a formal dinner, the table setting calls for a good damask, lace or other pretty dinner cloth. Some people prefer place mats, however, even for formal dinner service.

When setting a formal table 24 inches of space should be reserved for each person at the table. (It's a good idea to make sure you have that much space at your table before you invite too many people.)

Each place should be set with a service plate (or regular dinner-type plate if you have no service plates). The silver should then be placed so that all forks are on the left, except the oyster fork if it is to be used, and that will go to the right. Knives go the right. Ditto spoons. The silver piece that is to be used first is always on the outside, such as the soup spoon. On the left side, the salad fork would be inside the main fork.

Additional Dinnerware
If more than three forks or knives are required, the additional knife or fork should be brought in at service time as in the case of fruit, cheese.

Bread and butter plates are not used at a formal dinner as a rule.

LOST HAIR

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Officers began to speculate — but not very seriously — that the Indians were back on the warpath when what appeared to be a scalp was found on the desert. It turned out to be a toupee.

Undersheriff Waldon Burr said, yes, the hair was human — "But the glue holding it on wasn't."

CONTEST RULES

WHO MAY ENTER: Any user of electricity in their place of residence in the continental U. S. or Hawaii except employees (and their immediate families) of Electric Power Companies, Electric Leagues and Associations, their Advertising and Contest Agencies.

DURATION OF CONTEST: The first of the five monthly contests begins May 1, 1956. Entries must be received no later than last day of month to be eligible for that month's contest. Entries received after last day will be included in following month's contest.

Final month's contest ends Sept. 30, 1956. Entries postmarked after Sept. 30, 1956 or received after Oct. 5, 1956 will not be accepted. Multiple entries will be accepted, provided an Official Entry Blank is used each time. Entry blanks may be obtained from local Electric Power Company.

HOW TO ENTER: Read carefully "Quick Facts About Housepower." Then complete entry blank below. Answer all questions. Fill in your name and address twice. Mail entry blank to "HOUSEPOWER CONTEST", P.O. Box 1888, Grand Central Station, New York 17, N. Y.

JUDGING: Judging will be done monthly by the Contest Division, Richard Manville Research, an independent research organization. Judging will be based on most correct answers to the multiple choice questions, and the degree of interest, aptness, originality, and sincerity of the statement completion. Grand prize winner will be selected from among the 25 top prize winners (five per month).

Monthly winners will be notified by mail approximately 6 weeks from closing of each month's contest. Only one prize per household per month. Grand prize winner will be notified approximately 10 weeks from final closing date. Winners' lists may be obtained by enclosing a self-addressed, 6-cent stamped envelope with your entry.

Contest is subject to federal, state, and local regulations. All entries become the property of Edison Electric Institute. Judges' decisions are final.

Each contestant consents and agrees that neither the sponsors of this contest, nor the Contest Division of Richard Manville Research, nor any of their respective employees, will incur any legal liability for any negligence, error, act, or failure to act in the sponsoring or conducting of this contest or the handling, or judging, of any contestant's entry, however, all due caution will be exercised to prevent the occurrence of any such errors.

Quick Facts about HOUSEPOWER

Today, the average home uses 3 times as much electricity as it did 15 years ago. That's why 4 out of 5 homes now suffer from low HOUSEPOWER. This is true even of brand new homes. Here are the conditions that cause you to have low HOUSEPOWER:

1. Inadequate electrical service entrances. To overcome this basic cause of low HOUSEPOWER, you should have service entrance capacity of at least 100 amperes. This requires 3-wire service from the street.

2. Overloaded circuits. Too many appliances on one circuit overload it and none of them get enough power. Motors may even burn out. If the overload is too great, the fuse will blow or circuit-breaker trip. You should have enough branch circuits to distribute enough electricity to all appliances.

3. Insufficient outlets. Some homeowners use extension cords and "octopus" outlets (2- and 3-way plugs), or plug into lighting outlets. Such practices are unsightly, inconvenient, and may be dangerous. Rearranging furniture doesn't help. The only safe solution is to add more circuits and outlets.

These are the symptoms of low HOUSEPOWER: lights dimming when appliances are turned on; blown fuses or tripped circuit-breakers; TV pictures shrinking when other appliances are turned on; appliances working inefficiently or taking too long to heat up.

If any of these symptoms are present in your home call your electric company, electrician or electrical contractor for a wiring check-up. If added wiring is necessary, your electrician or electrical contractor will do the job quickly, neatly, economically. It often takes less than a day. Remember, full HOUSEPOWER increases the value of your home.

OFFICIAL ENTRY BLANK send to: HOUSEPOWER, P.O. Box 1888, Grand Central Station, New York 17, N. Y.

IMPORTANT: Read "Quick Facts about HOUSEPOWER" before filling in entry.

(Place a check in the square preceding each correct answer. Each question has one and only one correct answer.)

1. Today, the number of existing homes that need additional wiring is ☐ 2 out of 5 ☐ 3 out of 5 ☐ 4 out of 5 ☐ 1 out of 5.

2. One cause of low HOUSEPOWER is ☐ too little electricity available from the electric companies ☐ inadequate service entrance ☐ too many fuses ☐ excessive rainfall.

3. Overloaded circuits may be responsible for ☐ appliance motors burning out ☐ fuses that never blow ☐ dripping faucets ☐ superior TV reception.

EASE BABY INTO TUB TO AVOID DRASTIC CHANGE

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

You can wean baby from his small bathtub to the kingsize one by using a little ingenuity.

Ease him into the idea. Don't thrust him into the enormous expanse of porcelain and expect him to respond mirthfully.

Some babies will take anything in stride. But most little tots are cautious and suspicious of strange new things, especially at the age where they are forced to accept various changes.

It's a good idea to give some thought to your own youngster's reactions to other things whenever you try something new with him.

Ask Yourself:

1. Does he normally freeze up when encountering a new idea?
2. Is he afraid of water now or does he take to his soap and water face washings and little bath or wash basin easily?

3. Is he fussy about heat or cold? Some babies resent the bath because Mom always makes it just a little too warm or a little too cold. This calls for a test program.

Some children are frightened by water running into the tub, others fear water going out the drain will suck them down with it. Until you know whether baby is one of these types, fill the tub before he goes in to the bath, emptying it after he leaves the room.

If he has an awful fear of the tub and cries when you put him in it, try putting about a half inch of water in the tub and upping it as he gradually becomes used to the idea. Pediatricians favor that idea or the one where his little tub is put in the big bathtub until he gets used to his surroundings.

It's a good idea for Mom to be relaxed when she bathes baby. Little people are quick to sense tension and are likely to get the idea that a bath is a dreaded chore. If she starts out making it fun, the idea should catch on.

Tubbing Aids
Little water toys will help him enjoy his tubbing. There are plastic ducks, boats and turtles to be had that will help make the daily bath an experience to look forward to.

After the bath, wrap baby in a nice big towel. It'll give him a warm cozy feeling. Dry him thoroughly and give his skin a gentle patting all over with baby lotion. The creamy white lotion has a nice fragrance and a soothing effect that Mom will enjoy on her own hands.

If baby's bath is studied until the right formula for his enjoyment is found, pretty soon you'll have difficulty getting him out of the tub — and sometime this can be almost as big a problem as getting him into it.

A baby who insists on staying in the tub may always be eased out by letting the water drain out while baby is still in it. He'll soon know that when the water is "all gone" the bath is over.

Same Face, Place 18 Years Later

CANTON, Okla. (AP) — Back in 1938 Rene Heinz, working here with the Oklahoma Highway Department, bought a meal ticket at a cafe.

He didn't have time to use it all up before being shifted to another job. He revisited the cafe recently, pulled out the meal ticket and got the unused portion redeemed.

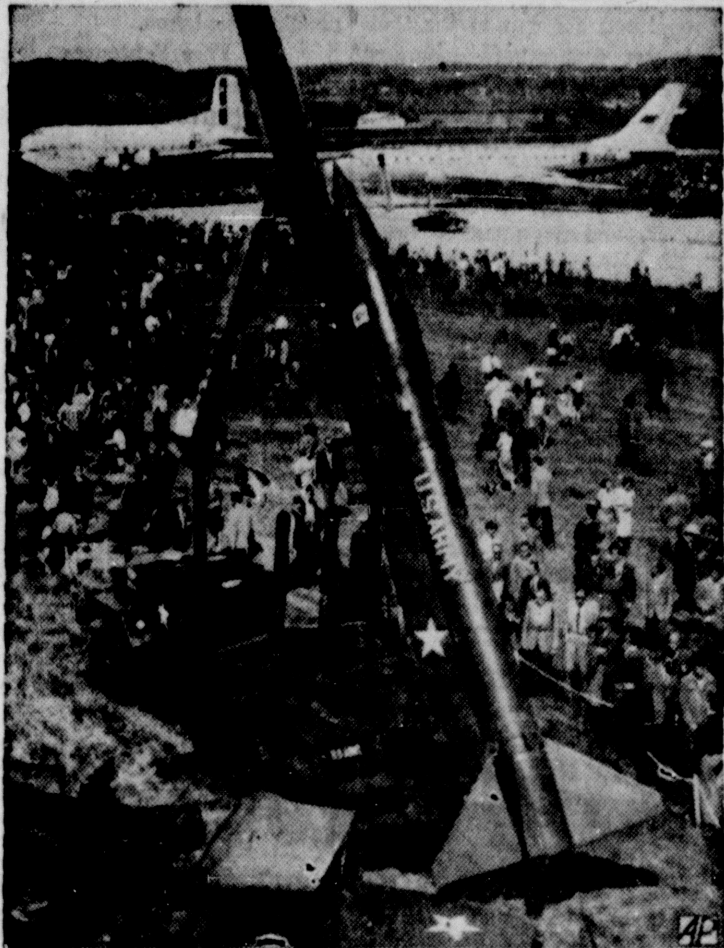

Heinz got a surprise when he was served by the same waitress who issued it 18 years ago.

SAYS SURGERY CAN PREVENT HEART DAMAGE

CHICAGO (AP) — An operation that aids ailing hearts could be used to prevent serious heart damage before it occurs, a heart specialist said today.

Some 1,200 persons with sick hearts have had this surgery, said Dr. Bernard Brofman, Mount Sinai Hospital, Cleveland. He called it safe and effective for a majority of patients who have had coronary attacks.

It should no longer be considered a "last resort" step after other treatments have failed, he said. "Ideally, it should be performed before any significant muscle damage has occurred," he told the American Medical Assn.

The operation is one method of helping people whose arteries bringing life-nourishing blood to the heart muscle have become plugged.

It involves dusting asbestos powder over the surface of the heart to stimulate new channels of blood flow, and carrying out other steps. It was developed by Dr. Claude Beck of Western Reserve University, Cleveland.

Ninety per cent of 185 persons operated since 1951 have been freed from all or most pain, and 90 per cent have returned to full or part-time work, including some doing heavy labor, Dr. Brofman said.

None among the last 58 patients succumbed to the surgery, even though a fourth were in bad condition.

NO AGREEMENT ON HOW SCHOOLS WILL MEET NEW SALARY RAISES

By DICK HOENIG
HARRISBURG (P) — Educators are probing the possibilities but have reached no common conclusion on what may result from Gov. Leader's veto of a state aid bill to support the new law raising pay of more than 60,000 school teachers in Pennsylvania.

Many ideas have been advanced while the problem of local financing is being worked out.

From the viewpoint of the school administrators comes this observation by P. O. Van Ness, president of the State School Directors Assn.:

"I am inclined to think it may be a movement toward shifting some of the mandated (legislated) costs back to the local district."

Some Going In Red
Supt. E. S. Teter of Luzerne County believes the veto will make it almost impossible for districts in his county to operate in the black during the coming school year.

Another superintendent, Foster G. Ulrich, Lebanon County, says that "it is unfortunate (under the veto) that the poorer the school district the greater will be the tax burden."

Under Act 556 of the 1955 General Assembly, signed by Gov. Leader June 1 all districts must give teachers and other professional help an extra $200 pay boost (above the $200 they automatically receive under a 1951 law) for the school year beginning July 1. The subsidy veto means the state's 2,500 school districts must supply this money—a total of 12 to 13 millions.

Possible Steps
Educators view these steps as those most likely to be taken:

1. Increase school taxes.
 2. Economize on other school district costs.
 3. Borrow money.
- In addition, there are three other possibilities: (1) Refuse to pay the additional $200 raise immediately; (2) Hinge financing plans on action of the 1957 Legislature; and (3) Move to have the district declared financially distressed. None of these are considered to attract much support among the school districts.

School taxes — many districts impose a levy on property and many others charge per capita taxes—a flat fee on all residents over 21. Some impose wage and other type taxes. Some levy two or more separate taxes.

Can't Levy Late Taxes
Through court interpretation districts must fix all tax rates for one school year at the same time. In other words, if District X has already decided to continue its $5 a person per capita levy for 1956-57 and sent out its notices, it cannot increase the tax to cover the additional $200. Nor can District X decide now to also impose a property tax. Its taxing structure is fixed and final for the coming year.

The School Code says districts shall fix tax rates during April and May. J. Hugh Henderson, chief of the School Business Bureau of the State Public Instruction Department, says that the courts have held this provision to be "a directive and not mandatory."

Big Tax Boosts
"In the past many (districts) haven't fixed them by May 31 and this year there will be many more setting them this month."

For districts that impose per capita taxes the veto could mean an increase of anywhere between $1.50 and $10 a year. The Jeanette school board is considering tripling its $5 rate.

For districts that will raise property taxes it may mean a jump of anywhere from 1 to 14 mills or more. Lycoming County figures show that Clinton Twp. would have to boost its rate 14.3 mills to cover the new salary boost.

Maintenance May Suffer
Economies—Some districts will be able to gather enough to pay for the raises through curtailment of other planned expenses such as painting and building improvements.

Borrowing—Many districts in a financial position to do so will borrow money to pay the teacher increase. Interest rates are fairly high now on short term loans so this will be a costly solution.

Some May Delay
Although the teacher pay law specifically authorizes temporary loans many districts will not be able to float them. That is because the code restricts the state's more than 2,400 third and fourth class districts (less than 30,000 population) to borrowing one per cent of the assessed valuation of taxable property in the district to meet current operating expenses.

In addition the absence of a specific subsidy law will prevent borrowing on anticipated revenues.

As for the alternatives, Van Ness said he has received "a couple of inquiries" from districts hinting they may not pay the $200 raise until the next Legislature provides subsidies.

"We can find no penalty in the law for such action," he commented. The school code has for several years contained a provision giving teachers' salaries top priority in the payment of school district bills."

Another possibility is some districts may grant the raise only dependent upon future legislative action.

As for having their districts declared financially distressed, and therefore eligible for special aid, few schoolmen view this as desirable. The special distressed fund amounts to under one million dollars so, in any case, it could not furnish the answer for any great number of districts.

PLEAD GUILTY TO THEFT OF SECRET PAPER

NEWARK, N.J. (P) — An Army sergeant and two East Orange businessmen have pleaded guilty deals with proposed action being discussed by various districts.)

to conspiracy charges in the theft of a secret government document from the Brooklyn Army Terminal.

The guilty pleas were entered before Federal Judge Alfred E. Modarelli Monday by Alfred M. Stern, 39, and Seymour S. Hindman, 39, both of East Orange, and Sgt. Harold E. Brill, 28, stationed at the Brooklyn Army Terminal. Stern and Hindman, co-owners of the Distinctive Emblem & Uniform Corp. in East Orange, were released in $5,000 bail each, and Brill was continued in $500 bail pending sentence.

Face Sentences

The three face maximum sentences of five years and $10,000 fines.

A fourth defendant, Bryant E. Schreiber, 43, of Millburn, who operates a snapshot service in Linden, has not pleaded. His plea will be heard later.

The four men were arrested late last month by the FBI and lawyers. Hindman and Stern claimed the stolen document was only a mailing list.

However, Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen.

William F. Tompkins described the paper as "of the utmost intelligence significance" because, he said, it contained a directory of "all the U.S. Air Force bases and organizations throughout the world."

Photography Charge

The fourth defendant, Schreiber, was charged with photographing the document at the request of Stern and Hindman.

Tompkins said it would be "unfair to draw any inference" that the defendants intended to use the documents for espionage.

MILK TRANSPORT FACILITATED BY MILK CONTAINER

HARRISBURG (P)—The trend from cans to tanks is revolutionizing milk transportation on Pennsylvania's dairy farms.

And Secretary of Internal Affairs Genevieve Blatt said the change-over is making it easier for state inspectors to check on weights and measures for milk.

Miss Blatt disclosed more than 1,000 farm milk tanks had been installed in the state.

These provide for a streamlined way of bulk milk pickup by tank trucks instead of the old method of handling hundreds of individual cans.

Cites Advantage

"The main advantage of the change-over is from an administrative viewpoint, although the public will benefit indirectly insofar as the operations of the bureau of weights and measures will be streamlined as a result of the change," she said.

The simplest aspect in measuring milk under the tank arrangement is the calibration in inches of the tank itself. The bureau has an arrangement with manufacturers to insure that the calibrations are accurate.

The department adopted new regulations to supplant those which had provided that its inspectors spend as much as 60 per cent of their time witnessing calibrations of farm milk tanks at the factory.

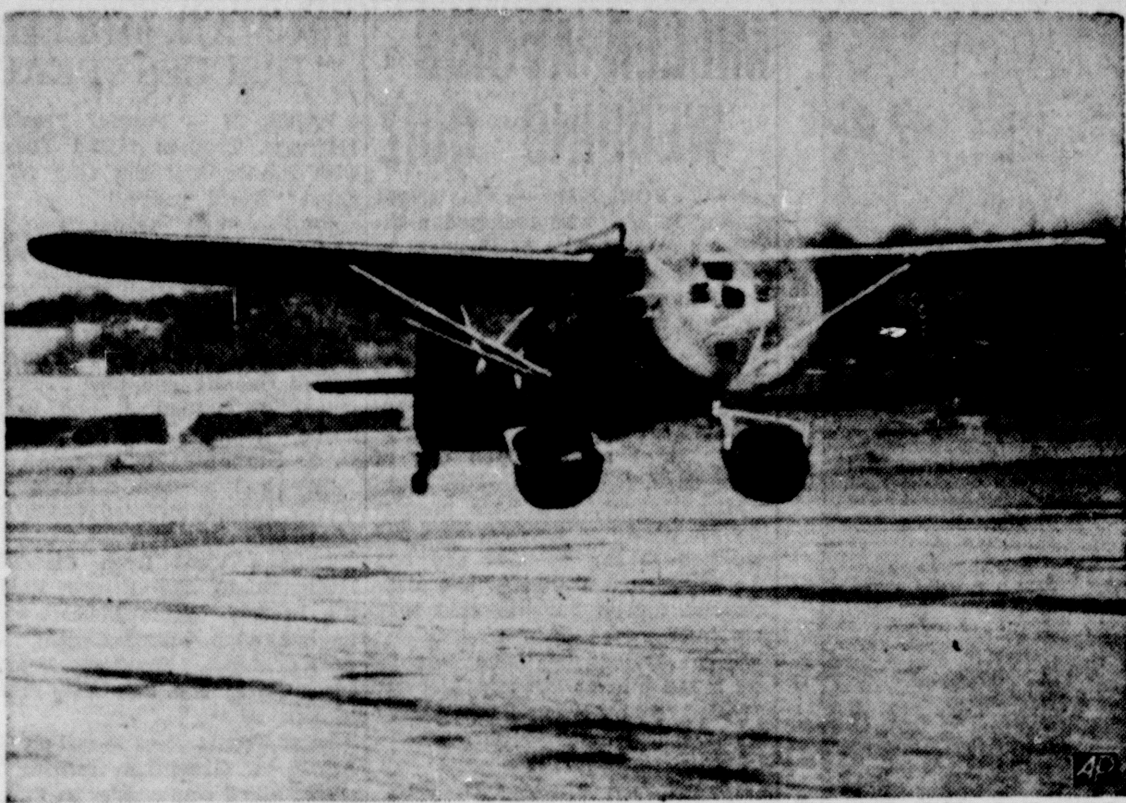

The new system now requires manufacturers to send to the bureau the name and address of the tank purchaser, location of the tank and tank capacity.

A gallonage chart set up by the manufacturer is then checked and inspected in actual use by the department.

At the same time the state milk commission urged extension of the state school milk program to summer recreational activities—a move designed to raise summer milk sales at no cost to the commonwealth.

The commission explained that Gov. Leader's request for a continuation of the school milk pro-

SELL KILLARNEY TO PAY TAXES

KENMARE, County Kerry, Ireland (P)—"It's a hard thing to have to tell. But Missus Beatrice Grosvenor confirmed Tuesday she wants to sell Killarney."

There'll be tears in the beers of the Boston Irish and keening by tenors in Timbuctu but, says Mrs. Grosvenor, what must be must be.

The British tax man wants 70,000 pounds ($196,000) inheritance duty on the family estate. She hates to do it, but the 40-year-old Mrs. Grosvenor has had to put the famous Irish beauty spot on the block to raise the money.

The agency advised milk distributors to get in touch with school sponsored summer playgrounds and recreational centers to solicit business under the extended program.

WASHINGTON (P)—The Senate has passed and sent to the White House a bill to authorize use of a "Pray for peace" postmark on mail.

all of the Killarney lakes, three picturesque mountain-ringed bodies of water in central County Kerry. Mrs. Grosvenor said she will have to sell 8,300 acres, including the vast, 18-bedroom Kenmare House, the country seat of her late grandfather, the Earl of Kenmare.

She will keep about 1,000 acres and will build a new house—"something small and simple"—on a hill where an earlier Kenmare house burned in 1913.

HARRISBURG (P)—Twenty-four men were arrested in a series of four raids which Det. Lt. C. Preston Price called a crackdown on illegal horse race betting in Harrisburg.

Price said four men, which he described as proprietors of the spots, were charged with book-making and pool selling. The others were patrons, he added, and charged with disorderly conduct.

Police identified the four charged with book making as Leon Kramer, 55; Oliver J. Kase, 49; Lester C. Webster, 26, and Alfred Kaupman, 46, all Harrisburg.

PAUL ROBESON LAMENTS LOSING PASSPORT VISA

WASHINGTON (P)—Singer Paul Robeson said Tuesday his "fight for a passport is a struggle for freedom."

Robeson was subpoenaed to appear before the House Committee on Un-American Activities to talk about his passport difficulties. He has been denied a passport to travel abroad.

The Negro singer and other persons were called as the committee resumed an inquiry, begun last month, into possible use of American passports by Communists or fellow travelers.

In a statement prepared for the hearing, Robeson said:

"My fight for a passport is a struggle for freedom—freedom to travel, freedom to earn a livelihood, freedom to speak, freedom to express myself artistically and culturally."

"I have been denied these freedoms because (Secretary of State) Dulles, (Sen.) Eastland (D-Miss), Rep.) Walter (D-Pa) and their ilk oppose my views on colonial liberation, my resistance to oppression of Negro Americans, and my burning desire for peace with all nations."

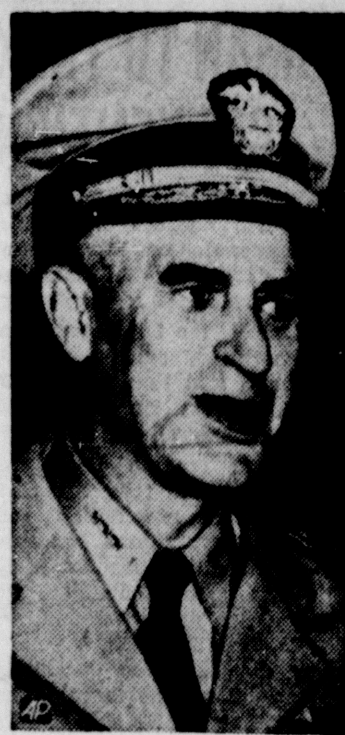

Has 6 Invitations

Robeson said his "travels abroad to sing and act and speak cannot possibly harm the American people." He said he has invitations to perform in Israel, Russia, Australia, Sweden, France and England.

In a prepared statement, Chairman Walter (D-Pa) said recent hearings have shown there was a pattern of procuring American passports for "Communists, those under Communist discipline and those used by Communists."

He said such persons would represent they were going to travel in certain countries of the free world and then use "devious methods" of circumventing travel restrictions "so that they could attend Communist-sponsored conferences and other propaganda efforts in the Iron Curtain countries."

Walter said Communists use of the Kremlin?

Nobel Prize Winner Stricken On Ship

LONDON (P)—Nobel Prize winner T. S. Eliot was reported recovering Tuesday from a heart attack which felled him aboard the liner Queen Mary en route from New York.

The American-born poet and playwright was taken in a wheel chair from the ship on arrival at Southampton early today and rushed by ambulance to the French Hospital in London.

A hospital spokesman said Eliot was suffering from a "cardiac people who, though not actually party members, are nevertheless witting or unwitting servants of the Communist cause," and he asked:

"Should the government of the United States in the exercise of its sovereign power refuse to issue passports to U. S. citizens who propose to use those passports as tickets of admission to conferences established as propaganda effort

FEEL PRESSURE OF TECHNOLOGY

HARRISBURG (P)—State Agriculture Secretary William L. Henning maintains farmers in Pennsylvania are feeling the effects of technological developments.

The secretary said Monday that in the five-year period from 1950 to 1955 there was a drop of 18,000 in the number of Pennsylvania farms.

Weather, Soil

At the same time Dr. Henning, addressing a meeting of the 3rd District Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, said the outlook for central Pennsylvania farming for condition which has not proved too serious." He said the 67-year-old writer "won't have to stay here too long—just a few days rest is all he needs now."

Fellow passengers aboard the Queen Mary said Eliot suffered a heart attack four days ago and spent the rest of the voyage in the ship's hospital. The ship's doctors declined comment.

the balance of the year is only "fair."

"Much depends on weather and—in Dauphin and Lebanon counties—on the skill and foresight of our farmers," he said.

He contended that Pennsylvania farmers are operating in a "depressing cost-price squeeze."

"Farmers are paying record prices for labor, machinery, taxes, insurance and most of the food, fertilizers, seed and other supplies that they need," he said, adding:

"Retail prices paid by consumers for farm products averaged 2 per cent lower in the first quarter of this year than a year earlier. "Prices received by farmers for the equivalent farm products were 10 per cent lower, but the charges for processing and distributing these products were 3 per cent higher."

TOWNS URGED TO APPLY FOR STATE HIGHWAY FUNDS

HARRISBURG (P) — The State Highways Department Tuesday urged municipalities to apply immediately for 30 million dollars in state road building aid.

"The sooner the forms are completed and returned to us and approved, the sooner the communities will begin to get payments after July 1," said George J. Richards, deputy highways secretary.

A new road allocation law increased the annual state grants from 18 to 30 millions a year.

"We'd like to get the money to the communities as soon as possible—there's no desire to keep it here where it piles up in the motor vehicle fund," Richards added.

He guessed that several of the state's 50 cities and 72 first class townships will be certified to receive state money on July 1, the date set for distribution in the new law.

Forms Are Mailed
New budget report forms with copies of the law were sent to the cities, first class townships, 940 boroughs and 1,500 second class townships last week, just a week after the bill was signed into law.

Richards and Carl Felton, department acting township engineer who supervises the distribution, estimated it will take about 10 days for actual payment by the state treasurer from the time a community is certified to receive aid.

Allocations will be figured on the basis of $300.19 per mile of road maintained locally and $1.14 per capita for each resident of the community. The old figures, for the 18 million dollar a year million, were $141 per mile and 63 cents per capita.

The aid continues to be granted on the basis of 60 per cent on mileage and 40 per cent on population.

No Matching Funds
However, all provisions of the old law requiring matching local funds have been eliminated. Under the old law four million a year had to be matched by the communities and it had to be used for new construction.

Under the present statute communities must use 25 per cent of their grants for construction, reconstruction or widening of roads and bridges. When all roads are

TRUMAN TO TALK AT CONVENTION

CHICAGO (P)—Former President Truman will address the Democratic National Convention after the party's presidential nominee has been chosen.

Paul Butler, the Democratic national chairman, announced that Tuesday and said that a place on the program was "in accordance with his (Truman's) own wishes."

Butler said Truman didn't say why he wanted to take the platform after the nomination had been made. But Truman has said he is a neutral so far as preference among the contenders for the nomination are concerned.

Time Not Set
Butler did not know precisely how long after the nomination Truman will speak. He said it may be a matter of a minute or possibly not until the next day.

The national chairman talked with newsmen just before the Democratic Arrangements Committee went into a closed session. Butler said the group planned to discuss "every detail and phase of the convention" which will open August 13 in Chicago's International Amphitheater.

Mother Saves Tot From Automobile

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (P)—An alert young mother saved her baby from possible injury Monday night in pushing the child's carriage from the path of an automobile.

The mother, Mrs. Mary J. Hartman, 22, was crossing a street intersection with the baby when a car bore down. She gave the baby carriage a sudden shove, a moment before the automobile struck her.

The baby carriage stopped at the curb, with the child uninjured. Mrs. Hartman suffered only minor hurts.

classified as improved by the department this money can be used also for maintenance.

The department has already figured to total allocation for each city, first class township and each county. It is still working on the others.

Felton said that several communities had already returned the budget forms which state how much is being set aside locally for road work. But, he added, they were all figured on the old law and had to be returned for revision.

Richards said that the department plans to certify municipalities in groups, possibly once a week, after July 1, according to how quickly the applications are received.

The applications must go through the department's 11 district offices before reaching state headquarters.

Half of the annual payment of 30 millions is due to be distributed July 1. The remainder will be paid Dec. 1. In future years the payment dates will be April 1 and Oct. 1 as compared with the previous quarterly payment system.

DULLES HOPEFUL RED BEHAVIOR WILL IMPROVE

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of State Dulles said Tuesday there are encouraging developments in Soviet behavior. But he said it is hard to judge yet whether the Russian regime will become more responsible to the people or revert to the "evils" of Stalinism.

Dulles told a news conference that what he called the evil fruits of Stalin's rule, as reported in the famous Krushchev speech, were the product of a "system of dictatorship."

"We can hope," Dulles said, "that Krushchev's revelations will mark the beginning of a change away from that system of dictatorship. But that, I fear, may not be his purpose."

But More Freedom
"The purpose may be merely to persuade the subject people that the present dictatorship is good, because it condemns the past dictatorship."

Under questioning, Dulles said he regarded as probably true reports that the present regime is giving Soviet workers greater freedom to choose their jobs. He said he had talked this over two weeks ago with President George Meany of the AFL-CIO.

He said Meany thought there were favorable developments on this point.

Such things as this, Dulles said, are encouraging developments which indicate a growing demand in the Soviet Union for a government more responsive to the legitimate desires of the governed.

But at the moment, he said, it is hard to judge which way the Soviet regime will go.

On other questions, Dulles said: 1. There is no difference between himself and President Eisenhower on the question of United States policy toward neutrality.

In a news conference last week, the President made comments widely interpreted as a defense of the rights of some nations to be neutral. Later, the White House issued a clarifying statement. Dulles last week asserted that neutrality outside of "exceptional circumstances" is "immoral."

Dulles said he had talked with the President and that his and the President's views were the same—but he declined to explain how they are the same or to detail his discussions with the President.

BRIDGETON, N.J. (P)—State police hunted a 24-year-old Bridgeton man Monday for questioning in the death of a bar owner Saturday night.

Harry Berry, 51, proprietor of Berry's Bar in nearby Deerfield Twp., died after he was shot in the chest in a parking lot outside his establishment.

State police of the Bridgeton Barracks said Clearthor Rainey and Ernie Crawford were having a dispute in the parking lot when Berry was shot.

A "wanted for murder" alarm is out for Rainey, police said, and Crawford is being held as a material witness.

MILLER AVOIDS WEDDING QUIZ

NEW YORK (P)—Playwright Arthur Miller, who received a divorce from his wife of 15 years in Reno Monday, arrived here Tuesday still declining to say whether he will wed screen star Marilyn Monroe.

Asked whether he would see Miss Monroe while here, Miller replied: "Oh, that may happen one of these days."

Miss Monroe, now here preparing for a trip to London, also has declined to say whether she and the 41-year-old dramatist are planning to marry but has said they are "very good friends."

Miller arrived by plane. Reporters asked him at Idlewild Airport: "Are you going to marry Marilyn Monroe?"

Miller replied: "I have no comment on that."

While at Reno awaiting his divorce from the former Mary Grace Slatery of New York, the playwright was served with a subpoena to appear before the House Un-American Activities Committee in Washington. Miller requested and obtained a postponement until June 21.

TRUMAN, MOLLET DISCUSS PEACE

PARIS (P)—Former President Harry S. Truman talked Tuesday with French Premier Guy Mollet about "world peace."

Truman and Mollet met for about a half hour in the Salon Blanc of the Hotel Matignon, Mollet's official residence. Truman was accompanied by Stanley Woodward, former U. S. ambassador to Canada and now Truman's traveling companion, and Robert Joyce, charge d'affaires of the U. S. Embassy in Paris.

"We had a most pleasant visit—very satisfactory," Truman said afterward.

Truman went from the Hotel Matignon to the Elysee Palace, the French "White House," where he had lunch with President Rene Coty, Mollet, Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, and other French leaders.

Later Truman was to call on Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, retiring supreme allied commander in Europe.

Female birds have been found to have increased pulse rates during the courting period.

CRASH INJURY SURVEY PLANNED

HARRISBURG (P)—Beginning Friday, Pennsylvania will take part in a national research project designed to make automobile riding safer.

The state police and State Health Department Monday made final arrangements to take part in a project sponsored by the Cornell University Medical School of New York City.

Special reports filled out by state police investigating auto accidents in four specific areas will be forwarded to New York for compilation of statistical data on the subject of how auto passengers are injured in accidents.

Chosen to take part in the program at the beginning are state police at Greensburg, Harrisburg, Bethlehem and Wyoming.

Col. E. J. Henry, state police commissioner, said the program may be expanded to other areas after a year or so.

FARMERS SEEK SOLUTION FOR GOOD DRAINAGE

Additional farmers are planning, or completing considerable conservation work to better their farms and solve problems of drainage, Richard Long, work unit conservationist for the Adams County Soil Conservation District, announced today.

Farmers throughout the county are continuing the construction of about 70 farm ponds per year, Long reported. At least 70 will be completed this year as farmers establish the ponds for a reserve water supply. "In many cases the ponds have been a lifesaver in solving the livestock water problem during the hot dry summer months the conservationist said farmers told him.

Raymond Leer, York Springs area poultry farmer, is among those currently engaged in plans for conservation methods to solve drainage problems.

Bad Wet Spots
Leer is planning to install 2,500 feet of field tile to eliminate some troublesome wet spots in a field in which he had considerable drainage problems. The greater portion of the field is fairly level with some shallow pools scattered through the field.

He plans construction of a header ditch or drainage terrace along the base of the slope next to the flat area. The flat or nearly flat area will be laid out in narrow lands, with an open furrow on a continuous grade at the edge of each land to permit the surface water to flow to a proper outlet.

By use of the drainage system Leer plans to turn the area into profitable land "instead of a piece of swamp covered with ash elm and Reed's canary grass and calamity," Grover Smith and Herbert Moore, both of Gardners R. 1 are others laying out lines for installing field tile.

Contour Strips
Mrs. Annie Zepp, York Springs R. 2, laid out contour strips on her farm during the last two weeks. Long noted that "plowing, cultivating and harvesting of crops when done on the contour requires less power."

"This point is driven home when the tractor is operating at full throttle in low gear on a power take off driven machine. The tractor quickly becomes overloaded and stalls when pulling up grade," Charles Miller, who recently pur-

ANNOUNCE NEW AG COURSE AT PENN STATE

A new two-year program in agriculture leading to a new degree, Associate in Agriculture, is announced at Penn State by Dr. D. R. McClay, director of short courses. The new program is designed to train personnel for the increasing demands in the many industries allied with agriculture.

Students can choose any of several broad fields of agriculture and then specialize in the technical work and agricultural sciences necessary to prepare for the individual goal. Dr. McClay explained. Students, with the help of advisers, will largely choose their own individual curriculums to meet their individual needs, he said.

Offer Opportunities
A minimum of required courses features the new program. All courses however, are those normally offered for the regular four-year students. Many of the fields within the new program offer job opportunities to young women. Dr. McClay pointed out as he called attention to a new publication listing costs, entrance requirements, scholarships available, and similar information.

Dr. McClay indicated that prospective students for the new two-year program can make applications now, since it is hoped to launch the new program with the fall semester.

A partial list of possibilities within the new program includes: agricultural science, farm planning and management, agriculture, marketing and business, mechanized farming, seed and grain production, commercial egg, turkey or broiler production, beekeeping, flower industry, turf management, nursery management, and dairying.

UNION WOOLING JOHN L. LEWIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informal moves have been made to bring John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers into the AFL-CIO and end the 400,000 miners' nine-year separation from the other major labor groups.

David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, and an AFL-CIO vice president, recently praised Lewis as once having been a "driving force" in AFL affairs. He said he was confident the UMW would join the AFL-CIO "before long." Last week, Dubinsky and Lewis met for an informal talk.

Neither Lewis nor George Meany, AFL-CIO president, had any comment.

Scorned Overtures
The 75-year-old Lewis has scorned AFL leaders with such remarks as "their necks just grew and haired over" in saying they had neither head nor brains.

Time has taken some of the edge off the bitterness between Lewis and other labor leaders, but old feuds die hard, and much remains to be done before Lewis' miners join the 15-million member AFL-CIO.

Meanwhile, there's a vacancy open for an indefinite period on the AFL-CIO policy group, which Lewis would presumably join if he leads his men into the labor federation.

chased the McIlhenny farm on the Harrisburg Rd., has finished construction of open ditches to improve the drainage situation in several fields.

Clifton Woerner, R. 3, has also undertaken the installation of an open ditch drainage system to help remove excess water.

Charles King, York Springs R. 1, recently completed a diversion terrace to protect a rich crop field from excess surface runoff from a steep slope above the field.

Long listed as farms on which farm ponds have been recently built as those of Blaine W. Hughes, Guernsey; Lloyd Jacobs, East Berlin; and Carol Dillon, Orrtanna R. 1.

Vo-Ag Students At Biglerville Average $290 From 89 Projects Ranging From Fruit To Cattle

Biglerville High School students had an average income of approximately $290 last year from their vocational agriculture projects, according to the annual report made by Agriculture Teachers John White and Cecil Snyder to County Supervisor of Agricultural Education Richard C. Lighter.

The report shows 41 students in the agricultural courses completed 89 projects. Twenty-three had only one project, five completed two projects and 13 completed three or more projects.

A profit was shown in all but the beef cattle projects. The youngsters who raised four steers lost $95.03 in the projects, despite producing 2,580 pounds of beef.

However there was no actual financial loss, merely of labor, because the youths include the cost of their own labor. In the beef projects they paid themselves with $101.61 for labor, so actually there was a gain of $6.58 for the project. However the agriculture students, taught to operate farms as businesses, must include their labor as part of their cost so that they will actually know how much profit or loss they are taking on each particular activity.

Corn And Fruit Best
Corn and fruit projects were the most profitable projects. There were 14 corn projects completed, totaling 81 acres on which 4,281 bushels of corn were raised.

The youngsters made $3,656.02 on their corn projects, of which $347.91 was the amount they paid themselves for labor and $3,308.11 was their net profit.

Seven projects in fruit were completed, in which students raised 6,042 quarts of raspberries and 146 quarts of strawberries and made a profit of $2,812.53 including the $95.38 value of their labor.

Dairy Projects
Eleven dairy projects showed just about what the elders in the dairy business have discovered. The students handled a lot of money, but didn't wind up with any great profit in proportion to investment. Income from the dairy projects totaled $12,017.68 — but the total profit was $2,809.59 — including the $1,306.94 the students paid themselves for their labor, based on the current rate for farm labor in the area. Costs in the projects were $10,515.03. The students had 16 cows which produced 144,822 pounds of milk, three heifers and four calves.

There were six garden and truck patch projects in which the students used 3.5 acres of land and made a profit of $114.53 including the $49.30 they paid themselves for their labor. They produced such items as six-tenths of a bushel of lima beans, 1.75 bushel beets, 75 pounds of cabbage, 11½ bushels of cantaloupes, three-fourths of a bushel of carrots, eight bushels of cucumbers, a bushel of lettuce, three bushels of onions, 89 quarts of peas, 156 bushels of potatoes, a bushel of radishes, 115 dozen ears of corn, 35 bushels of tomatoes and five bushels of turnips.

CHICAGO (AP) — Matthew E. Faetz, 83, American Bowling Congress all events champion in 1915 and first president of the Bowling Proprietors Assn. of Chicago, died Tuesday.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police today continued their multistate search for David R. Jones, 23-year old plumber's helper of Chester, Pa., accused of wounding his estranged wife and a traffic policeman on a central city street-corner yesterday.

Victims of the shooting—witnessed by hundreds of officebound workers—were Policeman Elmer Wolf, 61, shot in the left arm, and Mrs. Shirley Jones, 22, Negro clerk on the Community Chest Headquarters here. Mrs. Wolf, who also lives at Chester, sustained wounds of both hands.

A general alarm was broadcast by police for the missing man.

NATIONAL GUARD NOW OCCUPIES HAVRE DE GRACE

By CHARLES STAFFORD
HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. (AP) — Havre de Grace, a down-at-the-heels race track aristocrat a few years ago, is now working in middle-class respectability as a citizen soldier.

Five years have passed since the 'Graw, beaten by competition from tracks in nearby New Jersey and Delaware, last echoed to the flying hoofs of thoroughbreds.

Echoing now are the grind of truck gears, the rumble of tanks, and the whine of light airplane engines. Between the center pillars of the Mount Vernon-like club house hangs this sign: "729th Ordnance Battalion."

The 'Graw is a military reservation occupied by the Maryland National Guard.

Opened in 1912, Havre de Grace was one of the nation's most charming racing spots.

Man O' War Won There
Man O' War, in the belief of many, ran his greatest race in capturing the Potomac Stakes at the 'Graw on Sept. 18, 1920. It was next to the last race of his career. Man O' War ran with 138 pounds, the most he ever carried. Blocked in the early running, he came on to win over Wildair by a length and a half.

On May 21, 1947, a 2-year-old from Calumet Farm made an unheralded debut at Havre de Grace. The son of Bull Lea won his first race and went on to compile a remarkable record. The horse: Citation.

A year later, Citation was bet off the boards for the Chesapeake Trial. And he caught every horse, except one. The fleet Saggy upset the Calumet Farm champion by a length at six furlongs.

Other Famous Races
There were a number of famous Havre de Grace Handicaps — the 1929 renewal won by Sun Beau; the 1932 event with Equipoise the winner; 1938 and Sea Biscuit, and 1939 and '40, both won by Challenged.

In the war year of 1943, Havre de Grace closed temporarily. When it reopened in 1946, the fans it had drawn from the Philadelphia area about 45 miles north were going to Garden State at Camden, N. J.

On Jan. 31, 1951, a Baltimore bank representing Pimlico and Laurel race tracks bought the 8,000 shares of Havre de Grace stock at $225 apiece — a total of $1,800,000. They also got some of the track's racing dates.

Nine months later, the two tracks sold the 'Graw to the State for $500,000.

A Legislative committee said the State made a bad investment. It criticized Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, Maryland's adjutant general, for sitting in on both sides of the deal.

Reckord was president of the group which had sold the track to Pimlico and Laurel. He then became president of the Maryland Jockey Club, owner of Pimlico. And as adjutant general, he headed the National Guard.

SLUGGER LONG PROVES MOGULS MAKE MISTAKES

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Editor

The Pittsburgh Pirates are having their fun these days all because there's a scarcity of honest-to-goodness slugging first basemen in the major leagues. If the Buccaneers crash the National League first division for the first time since 1948 they can thank their lucky stars that they "got stuck" with Dale Long.

The 30-year-old southpaw swinging Long is the new glamour boy because he is making his 12th season in organized ball his best.

In his first 42 games he had 15 home runs and had hit eight home runs in eight straight games for a new record. The old mark was six in a row.

None Interested
Long has been kicked around like discarded tickets for a rained out Sunday double header. Nobody wanted this long ball hitter who as far back as 1950 had hit 25 home runs for the Yankees Binghamton, N. Y., farm team. He had 130 runs batted in that year but every team shied away from him because he had fanned 102 times. It got worse in 1952 for he led the Southern Assn. in strikeouts with 128 and hit only 254. But he had 33 homers and 106 runs batted in.

The Pirates were afraid to take a chance on him in 1953 and he went to Hollywood and played under Bobby Bragan, his present pilot. All he did in the Pacific Coast League was to win the most valuable player prize on the strength of leading the league with 35 homers and in runs batted in with 116. He hit .272.

Would-Be Catcher
When Long was hitting .381 in his first 42 games this spring almost everybody recalled that Branch Rickey once tried to convert him into a left-handed catcher. "It might have worked," says Long, "had I tried it earlier in my career."

In other words, the Pirates were giving up on him as a first baseman because a first sacker is supposed to hit for average.

But others have missed the boat on Long, too. In 1948 he was attached to the Boston Red Sox. He hit .302 for their Lynn, Mass., team in the New England League. In 1949 he was drafted by Detroit's Williamstown, Pa., team. After the season the Yankees' Kansas City team drafted him but he failed in Triple A and wound up at Binghamton. He was returned to the Kansas City roster after 1950 and the Pirates drafted him. After 10 games they also quit on him and he was sold to the St. Louis Browns. He failed there and wound up with New Orleans in the Pirate chain.

Pre Grid Offer
Long was an all-around athlete at Adams, Mass., High and could have played pro football. At one time the Green Bay Packers sought his services. But he chose

Spectator Trips Gridded With Cane

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) — C. P. (Sally) Miles, faculty chairman of athletics at Virginia Tech and one of the founders of the Southern Conference, won't ever forget the first football game he ever witnessed.

It was before the turn of the century. North Carolina and Virginia were involved in a game at Richmond.

"I remember seeing this Virginia boy breaking away and heading down the sidelines, apparently touchdown bound," Miles recalls. "But, all of a sudden, a fan along the sidelines reached out with a cane, hooked the boy's leg and tripped him."

North Carolina won — by a touchdown.

baseball.
On what he has done this spring it seems to have been a smart move.

For years Branch Rickey dwelled on the potential of slugger Frank Thomas and the pitching of Bob Friend. But he never said much about Dale Long. In fact, nobody did. But this year Long is letting his big bat do the talking.

RATE INCREASE ON TURNPIKE IS MAJOR ISSUE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission met in a special executive session today, reportedly to hear further suggestions on ways of averting a proposed toll rate hike on the 408-mile superhighway.

Shortly after the meeting the toll road commissioners were scheduled to appear before a Senate committee which is conducting a continuing investigation of the need for toll hikes.

Yesterday the commission decided to use uncommitted construction funds to pay certain bond interest due Dec. 1—a move bankers maintained would have no effect on possibly sidetracking the rate boost.

Representatives for turnpike bondholders insisted at a three-hour meeting with the commission yesterday that paying interest and rate revisions are totally unrelated matters.

May Postpone Boost
Chairman J. Franklin McSorley promised that if the commission can use uncommitted construction funds to pay interest charges, "we will try to postpone any rate increase until a later date."

Last month the commission proposed a 41 per cent increase in the car tolls and a 20 per cent decrease in truck tolls to bring in an estimated 4 million dollars a year in additional revenue. The proposal was postponed for further study.

McSorley, however, promised "that regardless of what kind of a toll rate increase will be found necessary, it will 'never apply to any part of the road system except the 33-mile Delaware River Extension'."

The interest question centers around a $962,000 payment which falls due Dec. 1 on bonds for the Delaware River Extension from Valley Forge to the Delaware River interchange.

Revenue Not Sufficient
It was the failure of toll revenue to meet estimates that prompted the proposed toll hike.

Meanwhile, preceding the special session with the trustees at the commission's regular meeting, the Sullivan Trail Coal Co. of Pittston was authorized to resume work on its flushing and re-filling contract for the northern half of the northeastern extension.

Several weeks ago the commission, on advice of the justice department, ordered a halt in the work for an investigation.

Yesterday Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen wrote the commission that an investigation revealed "no wrongdoing" by the Sullivan firm and that the Justice Department had no further objections to the firm continuing work.

STUDIES IKE'S PLACE AMONG U.S. PRESIDENTS

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, nearing the end of a White House term while recovering from an operation, has time to think of a question which must have occurred to every man who ever held his job:

"What will be my place among the presidents?"

It would be no wonder if Eisenhower felt history might assign him one of the high places among the presidents if he went on to a second term.

"No one-term president except the martyred Lincoln has been honored with the accolade of greatness," says Clinton Rossiter in his book "The American Presidency." He is professor of government at Cornell University.

Like Lincoln the two-term men at the top of the presidential list faced crises or struggles, internal or foreign, and lived in what Rossiter calls "stirring times."

Eisenhower's White House stay has been placed in comparison with the turbulent years of his immediate predecessors, Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

They met head on more major crises and struggles, at home and abroad, than Eisenhower has encountered so far.

Roosevelt led a depressed country back into self-confidence and then into and almost through a world war. Truman saw the end of that war, reconversion to peace, the start of the cold war, the Marshall plan. He guided the country from isolation into the United Nations, formed armed alliances against Russia and finally made the decision to fight in Korea.

Inherited Policy
Eisenhower ended the Korean War. But he did not have to create a foreign policy. He inherited Truman's, and has followed it steadily with no new one of his own.

In the long view of history—if he should quit after one term—his great contribution may have been in thawing the cold war, by creating among friends and foes confidence that the United States is peaceful.

The Democrats may argue it was the Truman policy of strength which thawed the cold war, by forcing the Communists into less aggressiveness.

And they may try to brush off as luck, or as a natural result of the legacy left by Truman, the greater feeling of peace and tranquillity.

Built Good Will
But they cannot deny that Eisenhower, by his friendliness and restraint in dealing with people at home and abroad, has built up a general good will everywhere toward the head of the American government.

In short, Eisenhower has helped the country catch its breath after an age of reform, war and repeated postwar crises. His great personal popularity is pretty good proof he gave the country what it thought it needed.

If Eisenhower did not have to face the crises which his predecessors, it is because they were prevented by his calmness and judgment may never be known.

"Not Immortality"
Eisenhower's White House years have been unsensational but, as

Robber Faints Three Times When Caught

PORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Police sneaked into a store where three safecrackers were hard at work on a safe.

"That's all, boys," announced Officer William O. Sharp, a 26-year veteran of the force. "The show's over."

Whereupon one of the three, Jimmy Olen Coffey, 22, fainted. "Later he came to and fainted again," related Sharp. "In all, he fainted three times before we got to city hall."

Coffey, an ex-convict free on bond at the time after being charged with burglary, faced new charges.

SEEKING COURT ACTION ON STATE BIDDING RULES

HARRISBURG (AP) — A rejected bidder on a state contract to supply coal is seeking court action to throw out a regulation establishing minimum wage standards for dealers selling the product to the state.

The Legal Coal Co., Goodspring, filed suit in Dauphin County Court yesterday against the Property and Supplies Department which drew up the regulation.

The company's bid on a 50-ton order for rice-sized anthracite was rejected by the department.

The disputed form specified minimum wages, similar to those set up by the United Mine Workers of America, which it said were required for workers before the firm submitting the bid would be considered eligible to receive a contract.

Restricted Bidding
The suit contends that Legal Coal was low bidder for 50 tons with an offer of $696 a ton and the contract awarded to the Stevens Coal Co. of Trenton at a bid of $775 a ton.

Legal Coal, in the suit, contended the wage provision was "restricting the number of bidders who can meet such specifications and, therefore, not permitting open, free competitive bidding."

The provision, the petition said, constituted "an attempt on the part of the commonwealth to set a wage scale and dictate other conditions beyond its authority."

As a result, the company contended, the commonwealth was losing "thousands of dollars by being required to pay more for anthracite than if unrestricted bidding were permitted."

Will Nominate New Auxiliary Officers

Elizabeth Etzler, Janet Powell and Vivian Phillips have been appointed to the nominating committee of the Auxiliary of the Hession-Snyder Post No. 120 of the American Legion of Taneytown.

An invitation was received at a recent meeting for the unit to attend the installation of officers of the Edwin C. Creager unit No. 168 on Thursday, June 21, at 8 p. m. There was also an invitation to a district luncheon meeting to be held at Camp Ritchie on July 1 at 1:30 p. m. Any member wishing to attend either of these events should notify President Blanche Lookingbill.

The volunteer refreshment committee for the next meeting includes Cathryn Hull and Bernice Rodkey. Refreshments were served at the last meeting by Elizabeth Etzler and Gladys Haines.

Rossiter says: "The times are the kind in which a president may win fame and gratitude but not immortality."

Rossiter guesses Truman will rank with Jefferson and Theodore Roosevelt and that Eisenhower, whom he now places above Polk and Cleveland, may yet move into the same company.

He puts Franklin D. Roosevelt beside Jackson and Wilson, "a small step above Jefferson and Theodore Roosevelt." He reserves top billing for Washington and Lincoln.

Issue Ultimatum To Chinese Before Dulles Will Meet Red

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials ruled out today any meeting between Secretary Dulles and Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En-lai of Communist China until the Reds substantially change their behavior.

The State Department last night made clear the Red Chinese must first:

1. "Fulfill" their agreement of last Sept. 10 to permit 13 Americans imprisoned in China to return home.
2. Make a "meaningful renunciation" of the use or threat of force in connection with its claims on Formosa, the home of Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist government.

The statement was issued after the Red Chinese regime had disclosed a proposal made at Geneva May 11. This called for a quick agreement on the general renunciation of force by the United States and Red China and for a Dulles-Chou meeting by July 11.

Reject Red Plan
That proposal was rejected by the State Department, and officials said there is not the slightest chance of getting such a meeting as long as the Communist continue on their present line.

On the question of Formosa, the Red Chinese proposed last Dec. 1 a draft agreement under which both sides in general terms would renounce force.

The United States termed this unsatisfactory on the ground that it lacked a binding application to the Formosa issue. The United States proposed wording that would make it apply specifically to "the Taiwan (Formosa) area or elsewhere."

The State Department said the United States had hoped its amendments to the Red Chinese draft agreement would be acceptable, then added:

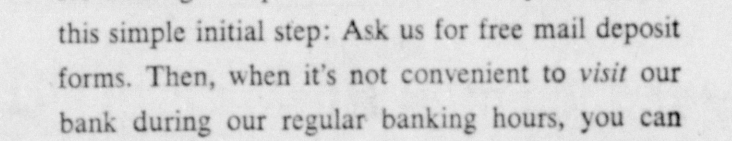

"But these reasonable hopes... were met by a Communist rejection of what amounted to its own proposal."

DETROIT (AP)—Mailmen are going to offer something in the way of a "before-dinner" mint to Detroit dogdom this week in hopes of deterring the dogs from taking a chunk of leg.

James H. Rademacher, president of the Detroit branch of the National Assn. of Letter Carriers, decided to act after hearing a report that more than 100 local carriers were nipped last year.

Dog candy was handed out to 200 mailmen.

Gold leaf and leaf of other precious metals have been made since ancient times, but only recently has it been possible to produce palladium leaf for doctored ite-rup poses.
